$22,350 Cost for Two-City Zoning Plan

Madison Considering
Proposal by SWIMAPC;
Federal Aid Available

The Madison city council approved Tuesday night a proposed planning program to be conducted for the cities of Madison and Venice by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.

The agreement was referred to the city legal department for preparation of a contract. The study, to be conducted in two phases, with recommendations, will cost $22,350.

The federal government is to finance two-thirds of the cost, with the remaining $7,450 to be paid by the two cities on a per capita basis.

Phase I of the services will be base maps of the cities and surrounding areas, an economic base and population study, land use survey and analysis, transportation and circulation survey and analysis, a community facilities survey and analysis, including institutions and public utilities, and housing and neighborhood analysis.

Total cost of the first phase is $500.

Phase II

The second phase will include a land use plan showing future residential, commercial, industrial, public and semi-public locations, a community facilities and utilities plan, a thoroughfare plan, suggested standards in preparation of a zoning ordinance for both cities, subdivision regulations, a public capital improvements program, an action program including citizen interest and participation, and advisory services and aid at public hearings.

The program was instituted after new state legislation authorized counties to exercise zoning and subdivision controls over incorporated municipalities which do not have their own.

During a short session, the council also approved a 60-foot easement at the city's industrial park at the request of Illinois Power Co., which is developing a substation at the tract.

In other action, the council approved meeting minutes and bills.

Meetings Resumed In Starch Strike

Another negotiation meeting in the Union Starch & Refining Co. strike deadlock continued at 10 a.m. today in the offices of the U. S. Mediation Service at St. Louis.

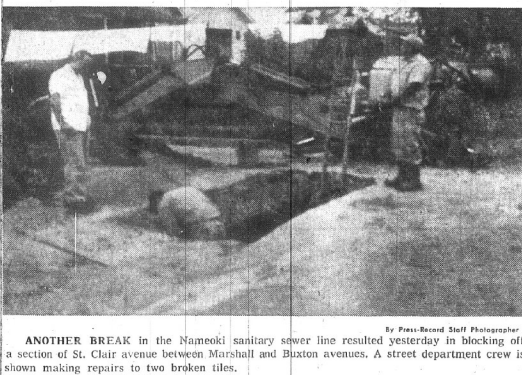

Scheduled to attend the session, but only in an advisory capacity, were T. Reed of Columbus, Ind., president of the starch company, and Elwood D. Swisher, Denver, Colo., vice-president in charge of negotiations for the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International union.

Also joining the negotiations was Paul Bowers, Washington, D.C. Conciliator, who arranged the negotiating meeting and the presence of Reed and Swisher. The Washington Mediation office stepped into the strike picture last week after the strike passed its 100th day. The strike entered its 100th day today.

Drainage Found for Johnson Rd.—Maybe

A problem that has perplexed Granite City council since the former city of Nameoki was annexed in 1949 now can be solved. The council Monday night provided residents of Gorbie Addition are willing.

The after-shower lake that forms in the 3300 block of Johnson road can be drained through a line installed years ago by the Gorbie residents, it was reported to the council Monday night by Alderman Sternberg, chairman of the Street Committee.

The chairman, a contractor, said he had bid on installing the drainage line for the Gorbie Improvement Association and recently uncovered the plans.

A 350-foot line of 12-inch tile can be run to a manhole at Gary avenue and Johnson road at an estimated cost of $3500.

"With that we can drain the lake out charge, and the council voted to send a letter of thanks to the staff. The city still has no city engineer."

Council approval was given a low bid of $245 by A. H. Sebold Co. to install a drainage line at Faith and Warren avenues. The only other bid was $700 by General Contracting Co.

If they object, we can put a gate valve at the connection to the 30-inch trunk that leads to the drainage ditch and hold off the lake until the Gorbie area is drained," Sternberg explained.

The alderman said he had taken his firm's engineers to the site and the manhole, which is covered up, was located. His firm has been providing the city with engineering services without charge, and the council voted to send a letter of thanks to the staff. The city still has no city engineer.

Attention was given to the construction of a railroad grade separation structure on relocated Broadway in Venice. The order also divides cost among the parties involved and directs closing of the Kerr and Main street grade crossings.

The structure is to be built about 500 feet north of the existing street grade crossing. The project will include construction of highway connections with access lanes for new Federal Aid Route 151, Main street and ramp approaches to the McKinley Bridge west of the street.

Venice city engineers have estimated total cost of the grade separation construction project at $125,000. By the commission order, the Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings is to contribute about $64,000 to the actual cost of building structures at the railroad tracks. The railroads are to pay up to $190,000 toward the cost on condition that the Main street crossing, now "temporarily closed" for several years, be permanently closed along with the Kerr street crossing.

Railroads under the order will loan the city $80,000, interest free. This amount is the difference between the city's share of the cost

New Audit Urges 3 Changes In County

New Fiscal Year, Tight Purchasing are Among Improvements Needed

Adoption of a new fiscal year, tighter controls on purchases and more extensive investment of tax funds were among a list of 37 specific recommendations for improvement of Madison county's financing and administrative procedures contained in an audit submitted to the county board of supervisors Wednesday by the R. C. Sheffield & Co. auditing firm of Alton.

The long-awaited audit, the first to be made under new Illinois legislation requiring outside auditing of county operations, also recommended the keeping of general ledgers and liability records which were found nonexistent in several instances.

Suggested that an annually updated inventory of all fixed assets be made and urged that "all county expenditures be properly documented by vouchers or receipts."

Of course, we must consult with the residents of Gorbie Addition. We have a moral obligation there."

Madison School Bond Election Set for Dec. 4th

$600,000 Proposal for
2 Additions, Equipment
At Dunbar, Sr. High

The Madison board of education called a special $600,000 school bond issue election for Dec. 4 during a regular meeting Tuesday night.

If approved, the bonds will finance construction of two additions and purchase of equipment for Madison senior high school and Dunbar elementary school.

In calling for public support of the projects, school attorney John Gitchoff and members of the board stressed that the resulting increase in property taxes would be held at a minimum and might average only $1 to $3 a year during a 15-year period for most families.

The current bond and interest rate is 31 cents, Gitchoff noted, but existing high school bonds will be retired in two years and the Harris school bond issue in six years, and the new rate would drop more than 20% in the last eight years, Gitchoff said.

After discussion of the proposed new 20-year bonds, the bond and interest tax rate would drop to 20 cents, he added.

Estimated construction costs are $350,000 for the high school addition and $160,000 for the Dunbar addition.

Proportions of the high school are seven classrooms, an addition to the cafeteria, partition of the shop area, a girls' physical education playground, new science and language laboratories and extended locker rooms.

The plan for Dunbar includes six new classrooms, a girls' locker room, a small teachers' lounge, a storeroom, a cafeteria, restrooms and a kindergarten playground.

Floor plans for the two projects were designed by Virgil Dalgoff, school architect, and were outlined at the August board meeting.

Plans also call for purchase of two adjacent lots from Mr. and Mrs. Marion Officer of East St. Louis to serve as a Dunbar addition, and for the purchase of necessary equipment.

"Bulging at Seams"

Current facilities are "bulging at the seams," board members said, and the school district is under continuing pressure by the state to provide expanded educational programs and services.

The board accepted an offer from the First National Bank in Madison to serve as fiscal agent at no charge to the school district. The board had considered contacting with the John Nuveen Co. of Chicago to serve as fiscal agent.

A tentative amortization, or bond retirement schedule, has been arranged by bank officials based on an estimated interest rate of 3 1/2%.

Local Versions

Venice and Madison police departments said they had no calls at all, yet Mrs. Edith Nagel, 2577 Starrford Lane, reported to the Press-Record today that her furniture moved and the flower pots rattled for about four or five minutes.

No damage of any kind was reported in this area.

Mrs. Jack Ross, 2671 Washington avenue, reported that her house was closed at the time of the tremor and that an inch-door to the basement door "rattled for sometime . . . and gave me an eerie feeling."

She recalled a similar instance several years ago.

A housewife in the Lueders Park Estates reported that a stack of folding chairs "began rattling and I knew it was something more than just a freight train. The dishes also rattled."

Illinois State police at Springfield reported they had received calls from a wide area, some from persons who said they had been thrown out of their chairs.

Town Board Hopes To Block Proposed Store Building

Nameoki township officials heard strong protests Monday night against granting a special use building permit to Charles E. Moutell of Granite City, to construct a grocery store and beauty salon, with apartments above, at the corner of Wabash and Union avenues. The location is immediately north of the Granite City boundary line.

Due to objections, application for a zoning change was held in abeyance by the Madison county board of supervisors at their Sept. 14 meeting. However, since that time, the county zoning board of appeals has approved issuance of the special use permit, it was learned.

Township Supervisor Harry Briggs stated he does not agree with results of an engineer's percolation test in the area which showed that cesspools can accommodate the necessary drainage for a business of the type specified, plus an apartment dwelling. He added that on other occasions the town board has found such reports to be in error.

Will Seek Delay

Briggs promised objectors he will request the board of supervisors to grant one month's delay while the situation is clarified and a further investigation made into the problem.

Three residents from the area adjacent to the proposed construction told the town board they represented five objecting families whose residential property surrounds the site. The location formerly held Rick's market, a grocery and drive-in ice cream store which burned down last year.

In stating their objections, the petitioners said the area had been infested with large rats when the business previously was in operation; drainage problems were increased and delivery trucks continuously backed into their property. Two of the three said they would be forced to sell their homes if conditions were repeated. All said they had resided in the area for a number of years.

In other business, Briggs appointed Auditor William C. Schreiber to represent the town board at a special meeting Nov. 1 called by R. L. Trimpe, Madison county superintendent of schools, when plans for a proposed junior college district will be discussed.

Storage Boxes Needed

Approval was given to obtain prices on several large storage boxes to house old records and case histories which must be kept on file for long periods and additional chairs to seat township residents who attend meetings.

Auditor Herbert E. Polley was authorized to secure a charter for an Explorer Post to be sponsored by the township. He reported that tentative approval has been given by the local Boy Scout office. Polley, who will serve as post advisor and set up a training schedule, reminded board members that he expects each to take an active part in the Explorer program.

He reported about ten boys have indicated they will join the post and additional boys will be sought after a charter is obtained. Polley said the idea of putting the new post on a township-wide basis would enable youths to participate from areas not served by an advanced scouting program.

All GC Fire Trucks to Get 2-Way Radios

All firefighting vehicles in Granite City are to be equipped with two-way radios which will be able to make direct contact with all three fire houses. Granite City council members voted Monday night to buy three remote units for the station houses and six mobile units for the vehicles. At present the city has two-way radios in three fire department vehicles.

Under the new arrangement required by federal regulations, the fire department will have its own radio wavelength completely independent from the police department. Under the old arrangement, the police department relayed the emergency calls.

The new equipment is to be purchased from RCA at a cost of $348. The only other bid was $307 by ABE Electronics, St. Louis, for GE equipment.

Bids for a new fire station wagon for the fire chief were received from five local firms and were referred to the Fire committee.

The bid figures, with trade-in allowances deducted, amounted to $2300 from Dodge Motor Co. for a Rambler, $2648 from Elledge Motor Co. for a Plymouth, $2457 by Farrington Motors for a Dodge, $2541 by B. E. Holt for a Ford and $2520 by Matthews Co. for a Chevrolet.

No action was taken on two bids received for maintenance of all radio equipment operated by the city. One bid was limited to just the new equipment being bought for the fire department. The Fire committee is to make a recommendation at a later date.

County Birthrate Drops, Deaths Up in September

The number of births in Madison county during September dropped considerably below the number of the same month in a year ago, with 311 infant boys girls born last month compared to 361 in September a year ago, according to a vital statistics report issued by Miss Estelita Hoz, Madison county clerk.

The report shows that the decrease in male and female births was almost evenly divided with 164 boys compared to 186 a year ago, and 147 girls born last month compared to 173 in September, 1964. Even the number of twins dropped from six sets in September a year ago to two sets last month.

Customs in Far East Related by Traveler

Unusual customs in Japan and among the Chinese and other races in Hong Kong were related Monday evening by Harry R. Johnson, retired Madison postmaster, who addressed the Granite City Kiwanis Club. Johnson, who has traveled extensively, described the customs and traditions of various countries, including Japan, China, and Hong Kong.

Johnson, who has traveled extensively, described the customs and traditions of various countries, including Japan, China, and Hong Kong.

The accident occurred at 4:00 a.m. when the parked car of William Blakeburn, 37, of 204 McCasland avenue, was struck and damaged in the left rear by an auto which fled the scene.

Police found a damaged car, owned by Howland, at the rear of a house in the same block, and had the car towed to a garage. Howland appeared later at the Madison police station and said he was not driving the car, but told police he did not know the name of the person who was driving it.

Police filed a charge of leaving the scene of an accident against Howland, despite his denial, and impounded Howland's car until an official report is made on the accident by the person who was supposed to be driving it at the time of the accident.

Howland was arrested last Thursday morning in a Madison tavern along with two other men, one of whom attempted to shoot two Madison policemen with a gun he smuggled into his jail cell. The first bullet jammed in the chamber, preventing what Madison police said would have been a tragedy. He is free on bond on those charges.

He posted his driver's license as bond in the Tuesday accident, pending hearing in magistrate's court.

Nov. 1 Deadline to Report Pay Income Tax Withheld

Quadtyns area employers were reminded today that Nov. 1 is an important tax date.

Jay G. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, said it is the deadline for reporting and paying income tax withheld and social security taxes for the calendar quarter ended Sept. 30.

Employers should use Form 941 to report their tax liability for that period, and mail it, along with depositary receipts and full payment of taxes due, to the District Director of Internal Revenue Service, Springfield, Ill., 62704.

Philpott said. Taxpayers who made timely deposits of taxes due for the quarter in a Federal Reserve Bank or an authorized commercial bank have until Nov. 10, to file returns.

Trojans Battle Shells Tonight; Speedster Burton to Miss Action

The Trojans of Madison high school tonight will pack their bags and head for Roxana, where they will meet the Shells in a Midwestern Conference game at 7:30.

Madison, 1-1 in conference play and 2-3 overall, will be shooting to keep its title chances alive against the Shells, who are also 1-1 in league action but are 3-2 overall.

Both Roxana and Madison were victims of Midwestern Conference upsets in last week's action. Roxana, 1-1, was defeated by Dupo 12-7 and Madison fell to Bethalto, 20-13.

Injuries plague both teams, and backfields have taken the brunt of the injuries.

Roxana will go without the services of Bobby Wilson, "one of our better backs," said head coach Morris Tschannen. Wilson is out with a knee injury suffered earlier in the season. But to offset this, "Mo," as Coach Tschannen is called, has had some fine performances turned in by his other halfbacks, David Campbell and Ron Kerr.

"Dana and Nunn are our big boys; they're the ones we've grown to count on most in a ball game," Mo said. Quarterback Dick Dana has averaged nearly 20 carries during a ballgame, the majority of them coming on rollouts and option plays.

Workhorse in Backfield
Tim Nunn, the Shells' fullback, has been the workhorse of the Roxana team. "He carries the ball a lot, and we use him and

Johnson, Revelle, Brokaw, Koziol On Injured List

Take one extremely large E. St. Louis high school, mix in a group of potential football players, stir in a tablespoon of seasoning called "speed" and add a bushel of beefy linemen, and presto—Instant Football Success.

Let's not forget, there are more spices that can be added to coach Gordy Galbreath's recipe as he prepares to take his East St. Louis Flyers (5-0) and clash head-on with Granite City (3-2) here Friday night at the Warriors' annual homecoming game.

Chief Cameron has a special shell loaded with spices like "toilet paper yardage over 300 yards," "182 points scored to opponents' 26" and that old standby called "revenge."

Revenge will be the spiciest of all ingredients in the Southwest Conference football game, as Cameron aims to offset the Warriors' 16-7 upset victory of last year.

The Flyers will bring five high-scoring players with them. Ron Lane, right halfback, has scored six touchdowns and an extra point for 37 points; Steve Rohr has scored only one touchdown but has booted two field goals and 17 extra points for his 29-point total; Tom Bayless, the Flyers' fullback, has four TD's and three points for a 27-point total; and Jim Lowery and Jim Robertson each have four TD's worth 24 points.

Cameron looks for no one Warrior in particular to stop, but said, "We'll have to stop all 11 of them, to win." He did cite the Granite City aerial attack as posing a strong threat as well as the off-tackle plays used by the Warriors.

"We haven't played anybody as strong as Granite City this year; we beat Alton and so did Granite City, but then again Alton has a new coach and doesn't have much this year," he said.

Satanstake says that Lane and left halfback Clyde Gillispie are the leading ground gamers for the Flyers. Led by the pair, East St. Louis has gained no less than 314 yards in its first five tilts of the year.

"He'll Granite City coach Jim Morrison put in a football game; after all, it's their homecoming," Cameron added.

Cameron is busy brewing his tried and true recipe, Morrison is concocting one of his. His brew is for an antidote to the injuries.

"We're in bad shape, injury-wise," Morrison said. "Three of our starters were badly bruised in the Wood River game and won't play against East St. Louis and one is still out from an injury suffered in the Madison game," he added.

Morrison was referring to senior defensive lineman Ed Brokaw, who has a bad leg, fullback Rich Koziol, also with a leg injury, Gary Johnson, suffering from a shoulder injury, and another player whose name he couldn't remember.

Kuehn scored on runs of 64 and 52 yards as Belleville ripped Collinsville 46-7, and boosted his season point total to 54 on nine touchdowns. Last year, he led the scoring with 72 points.

Overton scored twice for Cahokia last weekend and Johnson scored seven touchdowns, while Johnson has 37 points on six touchdowns and one extra point. Ron Lane of East St. Louis is tied with Johnson for the third spot.

Mike Hudock of Wood River is next on the list with 32 points, followed by Wood River's Jim Donovan, Highland's Don Yarn, and Cahokia's Ed Taylor with 30 points each.

All of the leading scorers in the area will get a chance to increase their margins in a full card of games scheduled for this weekend.

PRESS-RECORD SPORTS

Belleville Ace Leads Area Scorers

Belleville's Clyde Kuehn continues to chop away at the area's scoring title. He added two more touchdowns in last week's play.

Kuehn scored on runs of 64 and 52 yards as Belleville ripped Collinsville 46-7, and boosted his season point total to 54 on nine touchdowns. Last year, he led the scoring with 72 points.

Larry Overton of Cahokia slipped past Granite City's Gary Johnson and into the No. 2 spot. Overton scored twice for Cahokia last weekend and Johnson scored seven touchdowns, while Johnson has 37 points on six touchdowns and one extra point. Ron Lane of East St. Louis is tied with Johnson for the third spot.

Mike Hudock of Wood River is next on the list with 32 points, followed by Wood River's Jim Donovan, Highland's Don Yarn, and Cahokia's Ed Taylor with 30 points each.

All of the leading scorers in the area will get a chance to increase their margins in a full card of games scheduled for this weekend.

In Southwest Conference games only, Johnson of the Warriors leads with 24 points on four touchdowns and Kuehn of Belleville and Hudock of Wood River have 18 points each. Nine players have 12 points apiece.

Overchuk and Colclasure of Wood River, Lane, Bayless, Robertson and Gillispie of East St. Louis, Bethalrydic of Collinsville and two Granite City players, Rich Koziol and Dana Lakatos.

The senior signal-caller won praise for his scrambling performances when in trouble. "He'd drop back to pass and find every one covered. The pressure would get too much for him to stay in the pocket, so he ran with the ball and did a great job," Morrison said.

Tom Miner, who played against his former teammates of last year, and Steve Johnson, a hard hitting tackle, jointly won the "Chuckles As Murder" award.

Defensive Stars
Johnson, who plays on both offense and defense, scored a defensive rating of 16 points from the game films and, in Morrison's words, "That's great for a tackle; it's equivalent to 26 points for a linebacker."

Miner scored 11 defensive points at his left end position and, with one exception, stopped the Olin ground game around the end. After being double-teamed, he shook off the would-be blockers and proceeded after the ball carrier, assisting in the tackle that stopped a 64-yard gain.

Jerry McKean, who won the "Chuckles As Murder" award the previous two weeks, was a strong contender for it again this week, but Morrison felt that Miner and Johnson played "a tougher game."

McKean blocked a second-quarter punt this fourth in three games) and that gave the Warriors the ball on Wood River's one-yard line. Gary Johnson went across for the score on the next play.

To top this off, the senior line-backer, who set a new school record for defensive points last week with 22, bettered his own mark and scored 26 defensive points this week against Wood River.

News From The Files Of The GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

OCT. 22, 1915

A large number of pictures by some of the greatest artists in the United States and Europe will be obtained for the Granite City high school building as a result of the exhibition of pictures and three nights of entertainment, conducted by high school students. The program will be brought to a close to-night.

The Commercial club, Modern Priscillas, Eastern Stars and Ladies Coterie have purchased pictures during the exhibit and they will be placed upon the walls of the high school building. Each picture donated will have a copper plate, bearing the name of the donor.

Last night, a playlet was performed, entitled "A Case of Suspicion," and starred Prof. Coolidge, Miss Emma West, Mrs. Coolidge and Prof. Parrish. Professors Coolidge and Parrish had both parts in the playlet.

Believing that the construction of the building was a big risk in case of fire and also that the dimensions and the layout did not conform with city ordinances, which provide for fire-proof buildings within the fire zone, Mayor J. C. Steele, this morning ordered the work stopped.

The building was being erected upon State street and was contemplated to cover a full city lot, with a seating capacity of several hundred.

Mayor Steele received the approval of a large number of businessmen, some of whom have their place of business adjacent to the proposed theatre, when he ordered work stopped until all requirements are met.

Vietnam USO Support Adds

Urgency To UF Drive Success

Inclusion of Vietnam USO financial needs in the 1965-66 United Fund budget adds immediacy to the current fund campaign and further illustrates the wide diversity of programs supported by United Fund dollars.

While only $500 has been added to the previous local USO allotment, this and similar gifts from throughout the nation will enable more centers to be opened for American military personnel serving in the hottest sector of the "cold war." United Service Organization activities in past wars boosted fighting men's morale significantly and undoubtedly will prove valuable in the jungles of Vietnam as well.

Other portions of each United Fund dollar will be put to good use on the "home front," and this is as it should be. Victories overseas and in the space race would have little meaning if home communities became so concerned with the welfare of fellow men was forgotten and health and character were accorded low priority.

At the latest progress report, more than half of the needed U.F. contributions had been pledged but the goal still was distant.

Because the full agency allocations are needed, and because the Oct. 27 completion date is fast approaching, all who have not yet given ought to do so immediately, for themselves, their families and their neighbors—and the men daily risking their lives in Vietnam to safeguard the Quad-Cities and the remainder of the free world.

A Hazardous But Essential Occupation

A near tragedy occurred here last week when the trigger of a loaded gun was pulled repeatedly by a jail prisoner while the warden was aimed at two policemen. Fortunately, a jammed shell momentarily prevented the gun from discharging. The man in custody was persuaded later to surrender the gun without further altercation and prosecution.

The incident in this case involved the Madison police department but it is typical of the hazards encountered by all police officers in carrying out their duty. A delinquent of the law is not a lawbreaker.

Such risks must be taken because of the necessity for law enforcement; without it, a community would be a "frontier town," with every individual obliged to defend himself to the best of his ability. A delinquent of the law is not a lawbreaker.

Undoubtedly in the future there will be a better thought of the rights of prisoners, avoiding repetition of the particular incident.

OPPOSERS DRINKING, SUPPORTS STUDENTS

To the Editor:

In regard to the letter concerning the Madison City high school athletes and their drinking, I am not for teenage drinking—but I am for the prohibition of the sale of alcohol to minors. The letter writer said some had in their possession beer, of which some took advantage. If I was a teacher, I would have a bucket of fried chicken that not one of our football players forced anyone else to drink.

God bless their coach who decided to keep his players, with a vote of the team to accept them. Being a good coach, he could have done nothing else.

In regard to the disciplining of a cheerleader, I can't see that her world fell in. However, personally I think she got a bad deal. I raised a Warrior who let me know that I was not his father, and he was president of the senior class, but I never did see him sport wings.

Every day, some boy is hurt practicing football. We see in the Press-Record that a player is sidelined with a knee injury, etc. My son was hospitalized with a concussion.

I know what it is to raise a Warrior athlete, just as many other people know what it is to raise a high school student. Buses and heartaches are unavoidable.

ALLEGES JOBBESAY
RELIEF BEING ABUSED
To the Editor:

The recently amended unemployment law has been a boon to the high wage bracket but no help to the low wage class. If a low wage earner is laid off before he has earned the maximum wage set for the quarter they must qualify for, then they cannot qualify for the top amount.

However, we have many who just work long enough to qualify

The Prior Claim On New Scientific Breakthroughs

On the surface, it would be easy for Quad-Citians and others living in the "soaring skies" decade to take great pride in the accomplishments of modern science. More scientific progress has been made in the last 50 years than during the preceding 5000 years, and nearly 90% of all the scientists that the world has ever produced are alive today.

But an element that prompts humility and reverence for God is the realization that no work of genius is entirely new, but rather a duplication of what already exists in somewhat different form. Nature itself is the true originator, and the more we unlock its secrets the more we prove the point.

Achievements have been prodigious and obviously stem from a very high order of intelligence. But since they parallel what nature has been doing for thousands of years, it is clear that they are part of an overall plan of a still higher order of intelligence.

Electronic computers were conceived by man's own computer, his brain. But who conceived the brain? Long before modern photography, the human eye was providing a built-in super-sensitive light meter, with immediate automatic focusing, a wide-angle lens and full-color instantaneous reproduction. Air-conditioning was preceded by the beekeeping and the evaporative cooling.

What machine or mechanical pump can compare with the human heart, which pumps 100,000 times a day and has a work expectancy of 70 years without shutdown for maintenance or repair? Some species of birds have better guidance systems than the most sophisticated that have been developed. Bats have utilized radar and sonar for centuries.

Self-centered lives fail to take into account that no individual has the intellect, power or right to indefinitely set himself apart from his civilization and its needs. Regardless of the various identifying names they use, men are used throughout the world increasingly are recognizing God's prior claim to originality, wisdom and truth.

Two More Labor Headquarters Have Moved To Quad-Cities

The Quad-Cities area was welcoming two new labor headquarters—Automotive Machine Lodge 313, whose six Madison St. Clair counties locals will meet jointly at the local Labor Union and Operating Engineers Local 520, a 16-county organization which just occupied its newly-built $100,000 office and recreational structure on the Route 270 frontage road at Mitchell.

The new district-wide auto mechanics' union has an initial membership of 1190, while the operating engineers' group currently developing a 54-acre tract here numbers 1400 men.

Both developments reflect the strong local link to the union movement and this community's convenient geographical location.

Kennedy Chalice A Symbol Of Deep Affection, Sorrow

The Knights of Columbus memorial service for deceased members Nov. 21 appropriately will also honor the late resident Kennedy family assassination occurred in the same week two years ago.

The engraved chalice to be sent to the Kennedy family by Tri-City's Knights of Columbus is a symbol of the great affection here for the young president, who spoke in Granite City and Venice during his successful 1960 campaign, and the deep sorrow at his untimely death.

PARENTS INDIRECTLY MAY CAUSE BEDWETTING

If your child continually wets the bed you may be to blame. Case studies show that most chronic bedwetters (15% of all children between the ages of three and 14) are the victims of an unhappy home, where there is much parental discord.

"That's ridiculous," a mother said to me recently. "My husband and I never quarrel in front of our children."

But children don't have to see their parents quarrel to sense discord. They can feel it. And the mental stress can cause them to habitually wet the bed.

Overanxious parents who try to teach their child bed control are ready may also be responsible for the bedwetting habit. Many two and three-year-olds just aren't ready to master bladder control perfectly.

And the psychological nature of the problem is that a function could be delayed by scolding, punishing and embarrassing a child when he does wet the bed. Besides, children at that age go to the toilet seven times a day. So make allowances.

Sleeping Habits

Although inactivity and over-anxious parents are the most common causes of bedwetting, this "bad habit" can also be due to sleeping habits. Many bedwetters sleep soundly and are difficult to wake.

Physical Exhaustion

Physical exhaustion is another common cause of bedwetting. Some children play too hard and too long, and when they finally get to bed, they are too tired to hold their bladder. If the child's activities are limited, bedwetting is usually corrected. Make him rest peacefully during the day and retire early in the evening.

If you have a child over four years old, keep his bed dry. A. See to it that he receives a thorough physical examination. It's the only means to determine if bedwetting is not just a "bad habit."

B. Encourage your child to sleep in his own bed. Make him self-confident, not self-conscious.

Q. At present all my stock certificates are registered in my name. I am thinking of having them registered in my wife's name. Is that a good idea?

A. There are advantages to both methods of holding stocks. Determining which is best for you depends on your own desires.

Holding stocks in your own name means that the stocks are registered in your name. If you are married, you should have the stocks registered in your name, as well as in your wife's name.

Another advantage to holding your stocks in your own name is that you can sell them without the consent of your wife. If you have your stocks registered in your wife's name, you must get her consent to sell them.

The meeting is being held in connection with a series of seminars throughout the state. The first seminar was held in Springfield, where FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover stated that the scheduled conference was a must for all law enforcement officers.

Conservation by Scouts Featured in Magazine

The October issue of Missouri Conservationist, monthly magazine of the Missouri Department of Conservation, features an article, "Conservation 'How' Camp," and pictures dealing with activities of Cahokia Mount Council Boy Scouts at their Ozark campsite, the Sumner Scout Reservation, Potosi, Mo.

"It's your world. Take care of it; you may never get another one like it," local scouts were told by Lee Redmond, state fisheries biologist, at a week-long conservation camp held immediately following the regular 1965 camping season, the article relates.

It is noted that the site on the upper end of Sumner Lake in Washington county is rated by the national scout council as one of the top Boy Scout camps in the nation. Additional conservation practices and possible acquisition of more land are among current improvement plans, the magazine said.

David Menke, summer camp director and conservation director, had registered for the conservation camp 29 boys who had shown unusual interest in nature and wildlife specimens. Ranging in age from 12 to 17, the first-class, star and eagle scouts came from the Quad-Cities, Collinsville, Edwardsville, Highland and Greenville.

In addition to hearing lectures and viewing films, they drew up a conservation plan for the camp, planted trees, learned fishing techniques and hunting safety, studied wildlife management, enjoyed swimming, cooked meals and undertook erosion control projects.

Edwin Menke was camp director, Richard Elmore of Greenville served as scoutmaster and Russell Landolt of Highland was chaplain. Missouri Conservationist staff members participating besides Redmond were Lewis Berry, Eugene Brunk and Doyle Beck.

Airman in Test to Aid Future Space Voyagers

Airman third-class David L. Moerlien, 20, son of First Ward Alderman and Mrs. Charles W. Moerlien of Granite City, 4316 Edwardsville road, is serving his country in a unique manner this fall—as a space age "guinea pig." His assignment—be as lazy as possible.

Stationed at Brooks Air Force Base in Texas, he has just embarked on a new experiment after completing his participation in a project designed to aid future Airman astronauts. A graduate of Granite City high school, he was last employed at the A. O. Smith Corp.

In a letter to Airman Moerlien's sister, Mrs. Joyce Hand, 3801 B street, Col. George E. Schafer, commanding officer of the School of Aerospace Medicine, Air Force Systems Command, related that the airman is "a member of a group of young men who have volunteered to help us in the general field we call space medicine."

Simulate Space Missions

"Members of the team are remaining at restricted activity for long periods in order to provide information on what will happen to future astronauts during long space missions."

"As you know, our astronauts, as well as the Russians, have experienced some faintness on completion of their space flights," Col. Schafer related.

"We are concerned about this and about certain possible changes in body chemistry when longer space journeys are undertaken. Our best means of studying the effects of weightlessness and possible corrective measures is through prolonged inactivity."

"Your brother is one of a group being placed in an apparatus which changes the air pressure around his arms and legs during his bed rest period in order that we might see the value of this in keeping astronauts from getting 'out of condition.'"

"Read, Study, Eat."

"During this study, the men are able to read and are encouraged whenever possible to study in courses offered by the Air Force."

"Aside from the boredom of inactivity, the major nuisance is withdrawal of blood specimens. Though not an exciting one, their diet is well balanced and adequate for their needs."

"The studies are designed and constantly supervised by highly trained physicians with the assistance of skilled, experienced technicians. More than 100 volunteers have been through this in related programs here, and they have shown any effects. You may be proud of the part your brother is playing in this important study."

Assigned to Brooks after previous duty and basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, also in Texas, Airman Moerlien expects to remain there until about Dec. 23. He enlisted in the early summer.

Council Rejects Plan Group's Ok For Apartments

Two duplex home and apartment developments planned on the north side of Johnson road east of the drainage ditch were turned down Monday night by Granite City council members.

Eighth Ward Alderman Earl Thompson voiced strong protest to zoning changes approved last week by the City Planning Commission for the two developments.

Ford Johnson, also of the Eighth Ward, said the residents of the area objected to duplex dwellings and apartments planned for the larger 35-acre site last year.

Thompson said that petitions of objection had been circulated again this time. "I didn't get to turn them over to the Planning Commission because I couldn't find them at the city hall on the meeting date," Thompson commented.

12-to-1 Vote

The Eighth Ward alderman's protest were upheld by the council members who voted 12-to-1 to override both recommendations by the Planning Commission. The "no" vote was by Aldermen Sternberg, while two aldermen were absent—Aldermen Nenn and Basarich.

Developments are planned by Mrs. Elizabeth Guzo and James Henderson of the Leaders Agency for a 35-acre site immediately east of the ditch for apartments and by Clarence Lafr for a duplex-apartment development from present R-1, top single-family dwelling unit to R-4 and R-5 for duplex dwellings and apartments.

"They're picking on the Eighth Ward," Thompson told council members. "People bought their homes in these areas zoned R-4 to get away from crowded conditions, and they don't want apartments in their back yards."

In other zoning action, the City Planning Commission's rejection of a request for a basement beauty parlor in the Briarcliff area was approved by the council. The change to a C-1 zoning classification in the subdivision had been requested by Mrs. Eula Wheaton, 19 Briarcliff.

Placed in Pressure Box

He explained to his sister that in the initial experiment in which he took part, he was in bed for two weeks and then was confined to a "negative pressure box" for two days.

"The negative pressure box is a big box, on a table, that covers you from your waist on down," he has written.

"They draw out the air until there is less pressure than we have here on earth." Normal air pressure is about 15 pounds per square inch, and on some occasions this is increased rather than decreased, to as much as 20 or 30 pounds, he reported.

Although he hopes to be given a variety of other duties during his Air Force enlistment, including electronics tasks, the young serviceman expects the fall of 1965 to be one of the most unusual periods in his lifetime—a kind of glimpse of the privileges and risks in the life of an astronaut.

Wiretapping is Topic For GC Rotarians

Legalized use of electronic eavesdropping equipment, considered by many Illinois attorneys an invasion of individual privacy, was discussed Tuesday by Irvin C. Slate Jr., an attorney with the firm of Lueders & Robinson. He spoke at a Granite City Rotary Club luncheon meeting in the YMCA.

The attorney told the 56 Rotarians that state legislation is under consideration which would legalize wire-tapping and use of numerous electronic devices. Should the wire-tapping bill be passed, no one would be immune from its use, he added.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

John Tolson, program chairman, introduced the local attorney, who earlier this year made a similar presentation to the Illinois Bar Association.

Rotary president, William Hoedsbecke, announced a goal of 100% attendance had been reached on Oct. 5, for the first in several years.

To stimulate weekly participation, Vincent Bischoff registered ten attendance teams will compete each week through next June and the team gaining the top attendance rating will be guests at the 1966 All-Star baseball game to be played in St. Louis.

Members of the Rotary horse show committee were reminded of its initial planning meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Madison School Board Action

Final agreement on settlement of railroad tax objections for the years 1957 through 1962 in Madison county may be reached at a meeting of school district superintendent and attorneys set tentatively for Monday.

Wensel Brown, Madison superintendent of schools, informed his school board at a meeting

Tuesday night that the railroads involved are expected to present $2 million. The railroads won a favorable decision in the Illinois Supreme Court calling for a turn of most of the disputed money to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Brown and John Gitchoff, Madison school attorney, were authorized by the board to act accordingly at the Monday meeting and to return with a recommendation for board action. Gitchoff said the Granite City, Venice and Madison districts, in that order, have the most at stake in the case.

Trimpe said Wednesday that there has been close cooperation between school attorneys and school representatives in tax settlement negotiations.

With approval of the board, adult driver training will be offered by Madison high school. Brown said the district must make the offer if it is to remain eligible to qualify for state driver education funds under the high school program.

Adults taking advantage of the offer will be charged $6 per hour. Brown explained that teachers receive $5 per hour salary for extra work, and the other dollar would cover fuel consumption and maintenance costs.

Proposed Junior College

Brown also advised the board to give serious consideration to a proposed Madison county junior college district which he said is gathering momentum.

A meeting on the proposal is set for 6:30 p.m. Nov. 1 at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn. An address will be presented by Gerald Smith, executive secretary of the Illinois Junior College Board.

Also speaking will be Harold Kirkhus of the Peoria school district, who will detail how a tri-county junior college study was made in his area, and Dean Dene Southwood of the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus college of education, who will speak on the value of junior colleges. Reservations are being made for the dinner at Trimpe's office.

75% State Contribution

Brown said that under new legislation, the state would pay 75% of the cost of any new building. Gitchoff favored the plan, noting that under current status each school district would have to pay tuition for any student in the district attending any other junior college in the state, providing there is no local junior college.

He favored keeping local tax funds in this area and noted that a county junior college would provide jobs and income within the county.

The superintendent informed the board that a meeting is tentatively set for Wednesday at Belleville on provisions of Title 1 of the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

He said more than $20,000 is available for distribution in Madison county, but it is unofficial, it is supposed to be used this year and "it will be about impossible to do this." He said 588 families and children would be eligible in the Madison, Venice, Granite City and Collinsville districts, and a total of 3286 in the county.

Goal of Improved Education

The superintendent said he is attempting to formulate plans for projects for improvement of educational programs and services in the school district, and such plans would require approval of the federal government. He said he plans to obtain suggestions on needs from teachers and principals as well as from laymen.

In other actions, the board:

Planned to attend the annual convention of the Illinois Association of School Boards Nov. 20-22 at Chicago. Chester McManaway was named official delegate and Harold T. Fisk as alternate. The board allowed expenses not to exceed $100 each.

Granted permission for school secretaries to attend the fall conference of the Illinois Association of Educational Secretaries Nov. 5-6 at Chicago, with expenses paid. Miss Margaret Carlin, secretary in the administration office, is vice-president of the state association.

Approved the September report of Ray Kozielek, school treasurer, showing cash balances of $369,174 in the educational fund, $49,992 in the building fund and $100,570 in the bonds and interest fund for a total of $519,737. He also reported $16,250 in taxes was received Oct. 11 from George Musso, county treasurer, and a deposit in various accounts.

Approved educational salaries of $37,301, plus $22,666 in withholding for a total of $59,967, cafeteria salaries of $3213 and September bills of $10,005 from the educational fund, $12,874 from the building fund and $7519 from the lunch fund.

Armed Bandits Hit Madison Tavern 4th Time This Year

Two armed robbers held up Newman's Liquor store, 701 Madison avenue, about 7 p.m. Tuesday, taking an undetermined amount of money from the cash register after herding Mrs. Edna Newman, proprietor, and four patrons into the basement. It was the fourth stickup at the tavern this year.

Mrs. Newman declined to say how much money was taken from the cash register. "It wasn't very much," she said.

According to Madison police, two men, both armed, entered the liquor store and one held a gun on the five persons present. These included Mrs. Newman, Mrs. Pearl Burns of 701 (rear) Madison avenue, Paul Greene of East St. Louis, George Williams and Woodrow Lybarger, both of Madison.

Police said the other man stood by the front door. A wallet containing $18 was taken from Williams, police said. His wallet was returned after the robbery. Mrs. Newman and the patron told police that after they were forced into the basement, they heard the ring of the cash register and then heard the men leave.

Police said the two men were seen leaving the place by a witness who told them the robbers got into a car bearing a Missouri license, with a third man at the wheel. The witness obtained the license number and police notified St. Louis officials.

Late Tuesday night the regular St. Louis police lineup was viewed by several of the victims, but no identification could be made, Madison police said.

Sales, Earnings For Gen'l. Steel Down in 9 Months

Lower sales and earnings for the first nine months of 1965 compared with 1964 were reported yesterday by W. Ashley Gray Jr., president of General Steel Industries.

He attributed the decline for the nine-month period to a lower level of activity last year at the St. Louis Car Division.

The nine-month net sales this year totaled $65,500,011 compared to $70,190,240 for the same period in 1964. Income before taxes was $4,261,380 this year, down from the $7,263,952 for the same period in 1964.

Net income for this year amounted to $2,470,380, while for the nine-month period in 1964, the total was $3,912,932, and earnings per share dropped this year to $1.15 from $1.78 for three quarters last year.

The company has 2,151,020 outstanding shares of stock.

The third quarter figures follow with the 1965 amount listed first:

Potential Area Economic Growth Cited by Veeder

Economic growth potential of the metropolitan area offers great opportunities as the St. Louis Regional Industrial Development Corp. begins its first year, Nicholas P. Veeder said today in the organization's first "State of the Region" message.

RIDC board chairman, he is president and chairman of Granite City Steel Co. The statistical analysis of regional growth was mailed to RIDC directors and others, and is to be repeated annually.

Commenting that the current economic picture for this region compared to other areas "is not the brightest one," Veeder added that "there is every reason to believe it can be changed."

Advantages Listed

He pointed to the advantage of locating at the nation's population center, combined with abundant water supplies, new-found mineral discoveries and the impact of urban area growth trends on the "strong manufacturing, warehousing, distribution and service center facilities" already in existence.

Veeder called for the building of "a sound base for growth by economic research that pinpoints our economic opportunities . . . by reaching out for more metal fabricators and auto parts makers, as we are now doing; by attracting other transportation equipment, chemical and allied product manufacturers, including rubber and plastics; by interesting electronics and other growth industries via more research and development activity; by becoming known as the area that welcomes automation; and by making this area a logical regional center for federal government agencies."

The "State of the Region" report deals with six main categories of interest to industrial and commercial developers: Economic Profile of the St. Louis Metropolitan Region; St. Louis Region Employment; St. Louis Region Manufacturing; Employment Trends in Personal Income and Retail Sales; and Trends in Local Government in the Region.

Citizen Action Sought to Get Medical School at SIU-SW

A citizen action group to urge legislators to approve establishment of a medical education center at the new Southern Illinois University Southwestern Campus was advocated during a meeting last night of the two-county citizens' committee and interested persons.

Mayor Partney, vice-chairman of the citizen group's steering committee, and Dr. Patricia Koch of Granite City were among the speakers.

The meeting was held in Belleville and was attended by 50 persons, including area legislators.

The Citizens for Medical Education committee is hoping to gain membership to a state-wide advisory board that will work with the state Board of Higher Education to select the best location for the medical school.

Mayor Partney pointed out the great need for doctors in southern Illinois communities; while

Dr. Koch stressed the importance of having clinical facilities in the Madison-St. Clair county area which has over 26,000 medical indigents. She pointed out that SIU-SW is centrally located and with clinics operated by a medical school there, the state could save expense of sending persons to Chicago for clinical care.

The medical school at SIU-SW also would provide assistance for 12 hospitals in the two counties, it was pointed out.

Barge Cleaner Gets $187,000 Judgment

A Hartman man injured in a river barge accident on Dec. 28, 1963, was awarded a judgment for $187,000 by a circuit court jury Tuesday evening in Edwardsville.

The 10-hour trial will decide on the proposal at a 7 p.m. executive meeting next Monday and will submit a recommendation to the full commission at 7:30 p.m. the same evening.

Dissemination among the county organizations, the Alton-Wood River Economic Opportunity Council and the Tri-Cities Area Economic Opportunity Council must be eliminated—the three groups were told—before federal funds will be released for county-wide anti-poverty programs.

A merger proposal was offered by James Bailey of Alton, who assumed temporary chairmanship of the county commission following the resignation of George E. Moore Sr. of Granite City.

FOR GOOD NEWS
CALL TR 7-8711

Anti-Poverty Re-Organization is Proposed

In his plan, Bailey proposed that the Alton-Wood River group and the Tri-Cities Council be given seven memberships each on the county commission, with the members to be selected by the organizations. In addition, each organization would send two representatives from the seven members on the county's 21 member executive board.

Opposition expressed by Mayor Stephen Maers, a member of the commission executive board, and William Hoelscher, a member of the Granite City Anti-Poverty Committee.

Hoelscher told the Press-Record he would recommend to Mayor Donald Partney that the recognized committees appointed by the Granite City, Madison and Venice city councils had elected to work through the county commission, rather than apply for a federal grant as had the Tri-Cities Council.

The latter organization, headed by J. Alan Gardner, has made application for $40,500 in federal funds to conduct an anti-poverty project survey. A similar application made by the Wood River group to conduct a project application submitted by the county organization were subsequently rejected by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Hoelscher said he believes the procedure used to form the original 100-member commission gave true representation to all groups. "Under this new proposal," he said, "the commission will be diluted and virtually give amateurs veto power over responsible individuals and professional administrators."

The present Tri-Cities Area Economic Opportunity Council only represents a particular Venice faction," Hoelscher said. He added that committees appointed by the Granite City, Madison and Venice city councils had elected to work through the county commission.

Township Vote Planned Again For Sewer Project

Adoption of a second sewer bond ordinance by the Nameoki town board could result in a second township-wide sewer bond issue referendum, if demanded by Nameoki township residents. The election would be held before construction of an estimated $282,000 sewer system and sewage treatment plant for State Park Place can get under way. No date was set by the township officials at Monday night's meeting.

John Gitchoff, who was retained by the township as bonding attorney for the initial $1,500,000 sewer revenue bond issue, overwhelmingly defeated by voters Aug. 24, recommended the board arrange a series of public meetings in State Park Place to allow residents of that area to present their views on the proposed sewer project.

The attorney advised the meetings also would enable those to be served by the sewer network to learn exactly what type of system is proposed and the financing available. He advocated several meetings being scheduled prior to a decision being made by the board.

Gitchoff also advised township auditors to investigate a purchaser for the bonds and correlate all information before submitting the sanitary sewer plan to the prospective users.

Favorable Vote There
A decision to construct a sanitary sewer system in the State Park Place was announced after voters living in that area supported the original sewer proposition by a three-to-one vote in the August referendum.

Elsewhere in the township, the bond plan was rejected more than five-to-one in the Pontoon Beach area, 12-to-one in Wilshire and Miracle Manor areas and two-to-one in East Madison.

Earlier this month, Harry Briggs, township supervisor, told the board that two separate financing plans have been devised for the State Park system. One provides for construction of the system with part of the cost obtained in a federal grant, and the other provides for construction without outside aid.

Briggs said that under the plan in which the federal government would share the cost, the annual rental for use of the sewer system by residents would be $30.20 per year, or $3.28 per month. Under the direct-cost plan, without federal assistance, the rental would amount to $54.50 per year, or $5.45 per month.

At Monday's session, Gitchoff told board members that Charles Kaiser, Metropolitan Sewer District attorney, when contacted last week had no additional information on the new federal sewer-financing program or the availability of funds.

Gas Service Available For Eagle Park Homes

Natural gas service is available to residents of Eagle Park Acres starting today, it was announced by Cleveland Johnson, president of the Eagle Park Improvement Association.

Gas lines will be installed by Illinois Power Co. up to 50 feet from the front property line, the association executive said. Individual homeowners are responsible for installing connecting lines from dwellings situated more than the 50-foot distance and for extension lines into the homes.

Residents whose lines are now ready to be linked to the main gas line will have priority service, Johnson said. He added those who have not received instructions from the power company, or require additional information, should call the Illinois Power Co. office at TR 4-3280.

Availability of natural gas in Eagle Park Acres primarily is due to extensive efforts by Johnson and the association directors. Earlier this week, the first fire hydrant was installed in the unincorporated area. Other projects spearheaded by the improvement group include installation of water lines, storm water drainage pipes and street lighting.

Pop's long drawn-out alibi usually gets cut short on the home stretch.

Council Picks Aerial Ladder Over Snorkel

Granite City council members unanimously Monday night to buy an aerial ladder truck for the fire department and discard the plan to get a snorkel truck. Granite City Steel Co. is to be asked to put $50,000 in a special bank account for the city instead.

Seeks to Dissolve Nonexistent Agency

A resolution calling for dissolution of the Madison County Airport Authority failed to receive any response from supervisors at the Madison county board meeting in Edwardsville Wednesday—principally because there isn't any Madison County Airport Authority.

The resolution was introduced by Robert Ford, Wood River supervisor, who said he had received numerous calls of concern from persons objecting to additional taxation if the county were to get into the airport business.

He said "a lot of folks are worried about" the county's consideration of airport plans.

Board Chairman Harold Landolt and State Atty. Joseph Bartylak explained that no such authority exists or ever has existed. Landolt pointed out the only action taken by the board was the naming of a committee which was to look into the feasibility of the county establishing an airport authority. Nothing can be done about the matter until that committee eventually makes its report, Landolt said.

of providing the snorkel truck in exchange for streets and alleys in the "behind-the-mill" area. The streets were vacated by the city for the firm's new basic engine furnace.

The city council still is to amend the resolution which calls for the steel mill to turn a snorkel truck and is to set forth the new terms in the exchange agreement. Should the aerial truck cost less than $50,000, the remainder would be used to buy firefighting equipment, the council decided.

Randall Robertson, attorney for the company, said the new proposal would be welcomed, since the city wants to prepare its own specifications for the aerial truck. The company had employed engineers to design the snorkel truck.

Fire Chief's Comments
Fire Chief Earl Fronberger was called upon and stated he favored an aerial truck over a snorkel because of maneuverability. "An 85-foot or a 75-foot snorkel would be too big and cumbersome to use on busy and narrow streets and in many cases would require a police escort," he said.

Power Strike Would Affect 300 at Venice

The U. S. Mediation Service at St. Louis has arranged a Nov. 1 meeting in an effort to ward off a strike against Union Electric Co. by approximately 1200 members of International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 148.

The union represents employees in 10 Union Electric plants in Illinois, Missouri and Iowa. About 300 employees of the Venice plant would be affected by a strike, which has been authorized by the membership to be called at the discretion of the negotiating committee. The old two-year contract expired last July 1. Company officials said they have submitted several offers for settlement to the union, but all have been rejected.

Major issue is the company position in taking on new jobs at a new Sioux plant now under construction north of St. Charles, Mo., across from Alton. The company insists on selecting 10 supervisors and six assistants without regard to seniority, according to union officials.

adding that an aerial truck could be used more extensively.

Both Fronberger and Mayor Partney said they had discussed the selection with fire chiefs of St. Louis, Springfield and Urbana, and all advised getting an aerial truck. Alderman Moerlein, who recently returned from a vacation trip, said he had talked to fire chiefs in Denver and in Sacramento, Calif., and was told the aerial truck had more universal use than a snorkel.

Fronberger added that the fire equipment engineering firm of Gage & Babcock, Chicago, had recommended an aerial truck over a snorkel for a city the size of Granite City.

Emerson PTA Pancake, Sausage Supper Tonight
The Emerson school Parent-Teacher Association will hold a pancake and sausage supper from 5 to 7 p.m. today in the school cafeteria.

The public is invited, and tickets at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children will be available at the door. A bake sale and a white elephant sale will be held in conjunction with the supper.

Announcing Birth Of Second Son

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Serfas Jr., of East Alton are announcing the birth of a son Wednesday at Alton Memorial Hospital. The baby weighed seven pounds, 14 ounces and has been named Charles Bradford. He has a brother, Mark, 13 months old. The father is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Serfas sr., 2901 Benton street.

County Delays Action On New Liquor Law

The Madison county board of supervisors delayed passage of a new liquor control ordinance Wednesday until the Nov. 17 session to give board members an opportunity to study the revised bill.

State Atty. Joseph Bartylak told the board that the ordinance was modeled after the Illinois State Liquor Control Law and merely represents an updating of the previous law.

The man who accepts favors also accepts obligations.

Grocers to Hear Details of Food Stamp Program

A meeting to explain the federal Food Stamp Program to Madison county retail grocers will be held at Granite City high school auditorium next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Karl Thomas of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Consumer & Marketing Service, food distribution field office, East St. Louis, said invitations have been mailed to 338 food retailers in the county. A similar program was held last week for St. Clair county grocers and was attended by 150.

The Food Stamp Program is a federally-sponsored program designed to help low income and other needy families increase their food purchasing power and to improve their diets.

New for County
At the present time there are 118 food stamp projects in operation in the county. Madison county is one of the 75 new areas which was designated Sept. 4 by President Johnson for the food stamp program.

Participating families will be required to purchase coupons in the amount equal to their normal food expenditures for the month. In addition the federal government will give them free or bonus coupons which nationally have been averaging about 38% of the total coupons received.

Households certified as eligible by the Madison county Department of Public Aid can then use the coupons in authorized retail food stores to purchase any food item for human consumption except those identified on the package as being imported, including most and meat products identified as ineligible by the retail store.

No alcoholic beverages or tobacco can be purchased with food coupons.

The squadron provides maintenance for the F-4 Phantom II fighter aircraft of the air group.

In the game of life the man to watch the closest is yourself.

State Air Pollution Chief Gives Advice to GC Board

Members of Granite City's Citizen Air Pollution Control board met last night with Robert French, chief of the state Air Pollution Control board, and were informed the local control ordinance is adequate if properly enforced.

Thomas Baker, chairman of the Granite City board, said compliance with French's request for industries and businesses here to submit formal plans for abatement of air pollution is to be undertaken in a few days.

"We plan to send letters to the industries calling for the plans as quickly as possible," Baker said.

French told the board the state will cooperate and assist in the local program.

During Monday night's council session, a request was made by Alderman Whitmer, a member of the control board, for an allocation of $500 for the board's expenses. The request was referred to the Finance committee.

Troy Shooting Victim
Given Local Treatment
One of two victims of a shooting match at a Troy tavern Monday night was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital here for treatment of two bullet wounds in his left thigh.

He is Ralph Williams, 43, of Washington Park, who told county sheriff's deputies that he was threatened by a man identified only as Thomas Henderson, who wielded a pistol.

He said he drew his pistol and exchanged shots. Henderson was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital, Highland, with bullet wounds to the lower chest, right hand and forearm. County authorities are investigating.

Seaman Thos. Shoemaker On 'Ragweed' Exercise

Seaman Thomas W. Shoemaker, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Garrett of 2804 Sunset drive, is participating in a U. S. First Fleet Training Exercise "Ragweed" while serving aboard the anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier USS Yorktown.

The seven-day exercise, being conducted off the coast of Southern California, involves 34 ships of the First Fleet and several naval air and amphibious units.

Park District Sets Dates For Rose, Fish Give-aways

Bundles of rose and plant cuttings will be given away without charge to residents of the Granite City park district at 8 a.m. next Wednesday, in Wilson Park. It is announced today by Park Supt. Harold Brown.

Unlike last fall when an early frost killed most of the park flowers, this year, Brown said, bundles of the salvia, dahlias, marigolds, daisy miller and periwinkle plants also will be provided free to residents.

At 8 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 30, residents may acquire two free goldfish from the Wilson Park pond. Youngsters must bring their own containers for the fish.

New Hope Found for Christmas Vacation

There is some hope, after all, that Madison public school students will have a Christmas vacation.

Wendell Brown, superintendent, told board of education Tuesday night that he found an old state statute permitting school boards to call special holidays.

However, with new state statutes requiring 185 school calendar days, the superintendent said efforts so far have been unsuccessful in convincing Ray Page, state superintendent of instruction, and his legal staff, that there is no conflict between the two laws.

The new statute was signed late in August, after a school calendar was set and teaching contracts were signed, calling for four additional days which would provide for emergency days off, particularly to accommodate school districts in the north. The usual Christmas week would be the most available time to comply with the law.

Madison authorities hope to find a soft spot in the state superintendent's legal staff as the Christmas season approaches.

Mail In or Drive Up

Envelope arrest tickets for drive-up depository facilities at non-moving traffic violations to the city hall for persons not wanting to mail the envelopes was recommended by Alderman prior to the first of the new year. Bartosik, as an added convenience, but an objection was week following Monday night's approval of a uniform fine ordinance by the city council.

Envelope Arrest Ticket System to Start Before End of Year

Whitmer commented there are plenty of mail boxes around town that can be used.

Mayor Likes Drive-Up
However, Bartosik's suggestion for removal of about two parking meters at the city hall for setting up a depository was well received by Mayor Partney.

It states: "No person shall stop, stand or park a vehicle except when necessary to avoid conflict with other traffic or in compliance with law or the direction of a police officer or official traffic control devices in any of the following places:

- "1. On a sidewalk.
- "2. In front of a public or private driveway.
- "3. Within an intersection.
- "4. Within 15 feet of a fire hydrant.
- "5. On a crosswalk.
- "6. Within 15 feet of a U. S. mailbox.
- "7. In a bus zone.
- "8. In any zone where parking is prohibited by ordinance and indicated by proper posting of notices.

Crosswalks, Intersections
"9. Within 20 feet of a crosswalk, or if none, then within 15 feet of the intersection of property lines at an intersection of streets.

"10. Within 30 feet upon the approach to any flashing beacon, stop sign, yield right-of-way sign or traffic control signal located at the side of a street.

"11. Between a safety zone and the adjacent curb or within 30 feet of points on the curb immediately opposite the ends of a safety zone unless a different length is indicated by signs or markings.

"12. Within 50 feet of the driveway entrance to any fire station and on the side of a street opposite the entrance to any fire station within 75 feet of the entrance when properly signposted.

"13. Alongside or opposite any street excavation or obstruction when such stopping, standing or parking would obstruct traffic.

"14. On the street side of any vehicle stopped or parked at the edge or curb of a street.

"15. Upon any bridge or other elevated structure upon a street or within a street tunnel.

"16. Within 200 feet of an accident at which police officers are in attendance.

"17. In front of any theater.

"18. In any place or in any manner so as to block immediate egress from any emergency exit or exits conspicuously marked as such of buildings.

"19. In any place or in any manner so as to block or hamper the immediate use of an immediate egress from any fire escape conspicuously marked as such providing an emergency means of egress from any building.

"20. No person shall move a vehicle not lawfully under his control into any such prohibited area or away from a curb such distance as is unlawful.

"21. No person shall park a vehicle within an alley so as to leave less than 10 feet width of the roadway available for the free movement of vehicular traffic.

"22. No vehicle shall be parked with the left side next to the curb or other than parallel with the curb and with the two right wheels within 12 inches of the curb line, except when angle parking is marked.

Organization Of 7-County Library System Advanced

Decision to organize a seven-county library system that would set up a central library distributing many thousands of dollars worth of books to libraries that could not otherwise afford them was reached Monday night in a meeting at Edwardsville of representatives of the proposed district.

The system would be conducted under new laws providing federal monies for operation of library "systems" in designated areas, each of which would be eligible for federal grants on the basis of population to provide books of all kinds that would be distributed out of the central library, according to Mrs. Mary Gene Knufinke, Granite City librarian.

Mrs. Knufinke described the program as a "blessing" to libraries in smaller communities which have limited budgets for book purchases. The group attending Monday night's meeting decided upon the "Lewis and Clark Program" as the designation of the undertaking.

The main library of the organization of seven counties, once organization is complete would be known as "the system" according to terms of controlling legislation. This library will be the public library of the largest community within the system which, in this case, probably would be the Alton public library. Federal funds would be distributed to this library which would be required to obtain and store books for libraries of the seven-county district. Books could be borrowed on short notice to meet special needs.

Neither Venice nor Madison, was represented at the meeting, but representatives of libraries in both communities have indicated their intention to take part in the program.

The federal act, approved Aug. 18, provides for 21 "systems" in the state of Illinois and sets up a total grant of $4,743,822 for all of these systems, according to announcement at the meeting.

Counties comprising the system are Madison, Calhoun, Greene, Macoupin, Jersey, Montgomery and Bond, with participation to be voluntary. All libraries would retain their autonomy as to local administration and local tax collections.

Another organization meeting will be held Nov. 15 to discuss further plans for setting up the program.

Inhalator Helps Boy After Fall Off Stool
A fall from a stool by Joseph Wilkerson, 16-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wilkerson, 5035 Lakeside drive, necessitated the use of the Granite City fire department inhalator about noon Tuesday.

The boy went into convulsions, and the father took him to the Nameoki fire station, where he was met by firemen from the main station with the inhalator. The boy revived and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was pronounced in good condition.

Sanitation Dept. Revival Charged
Temporary Hirings for GC Alley Cleanup
Opposed by Aldermen and Street Supt.

Employment of two temporary workers to carry out the mayor's alley cleanup program was proposed during Monday night's Granite City council session. Objection was raised by Alderman Sternberg, who commented that it appeared an attempt was being made to re-establish a sanitation department for the city. Part-time employees who operate the city's insect fogging machines also are classified as sanitation workers. Stronger protest was made by Supt. of Streets William Warfield, who said the responsibility for alleys rests with the street department. He pointed out that while more men are being added to the police and fire departments, the street department work force has been reduced.

Cut from 29 to 23 men "Five or six years ago there were 29 men on the department, and now there's only 23. I've gone along with every request by the city for cutbacks and recently one street worker died and another retired," Warfield pointed out. The street superintendent was supported by Alderman Whitmer, who said, "It looks like some people on the council are trying to chop him down. It looks like political doings. He should be able to go to the union hiring hall and get replacements for his department," Whitmer added. Mayor Partney replied that all hirings are to be handled by the city council. Alderman Boyd, chairman of the Sanitation committee, presented the proposal for hiring two men for the sanitation department to carry out the alley cleanup so that the two men "borrowed" from the street department could be returned to that department.

Needed Men and Truck
Mayor Partney explained he had called for two street department men to do the job since a truck was needed to haul away trash accumulated in the alleys and the only truck available was in the street department. He indicated that the alley cleanup is to be continued until weeks ago and is expected to take several months to complete. Warfield commented that the alleys are in "pretty good condition," and that he always believed the cleanup was the responsibility of the adjacent property owners. Sternberg said he and the mayor and street superintendent had met recently to discuss the street department and that no decision was reached on the number of men the department should have. "We'll have another meeting in the near future," the Street committee chairman told the council. Sternberg added that the rumors that the committee had rejected the idea of hiring replacements for the street department were false.

Another Landmark Making
Way For Auto Parking

Another of Granite city's old-est landmarks — the Kinloch building at 1925 Edison avenue — was razed this week to make way for a modern necessity of progress, a parking lot. The building, also commonly referred to as the Commerce building, was constructed about 1886, as nearly as oldtimers can remember, especially to house the Kinloch telephone exchange. Prior to the founding of Granite City, the Kinloch exchange operated in quarters in Madison, starting in 1885. Francis Judd, Granite City realtor, recalls that his mother, Mrs. Agnes E. Judd, served as one of the company's first telephone operators, working with the firm from 1885 until 1907. When Mrs. Judd joined the telephone company, it had 70 phones. The company grew to 1,000 phones by 1907. Customers at 1:30 p.m. Monday. The truck driver was E. Kramer, East St. Louis.

The old building has housed a number of offices, including Southwest Bell, the Associated Retailers, Chamber of Commerce, a loan firm, tax service and other businesses. Most recently is provided temporary quarters for Frank's Card Shop owned by the J & R Simpson building was burned out. Owned by Henry Karandjeff, the new parking lot is to be used for the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank which Karandjeff is chairman of the board.

New Audit

In another case, the audit revealed, two different departments purchased the identical items from the same supplier at different unit costs, with the department which bought only one unit paying a lesser price than the other department which bought a number of the same items at a different, and higher, unit cost.

Urges Fiscal Change

The report urged the establishment of a county fiscal year ending on Nov. 30 because of the multiplicity of varying fiscal periods. "The official year of the county ends on Dec. 31," the audit stated, while "the TB Sanatorium has a fiscal year ending May 31 and the fee offices submit semi-annual reports ending May 31 and Nov. 30."

This situation creates additional accounting problems at the audit date, in presenting all the transactions of the county as of Dec. 31. The report pointed out that since the county ends its year Dec. 31, final reports are not made until the following month, delaying preparation of the audit and requiring accountants to make adjustments for December expenditures which are not approved for payment or reported to the board until the following month.

Referring specifically to the county's investment policies, the audit report said:

"During the year substantial income was received from the investment of various funds, a policy with which we concur; however, it appears to us that there were still substantial excess funds on hand at various times during the year which could have been invested if the county had the legal right to do so."

"We wish to point out that while $3,232,215 was invested at Dec. 31, 1964, there was still $4,857,114 on deposit in checking accounts in various banks which was not producing any income. . . . We recommend that the county board confer with the state's attorney in connection with this matter and determine . . . what funds can be invested and the type of investment that can be made with such funds."

The report went on to say that "there are no adequate accounting controls over fixed assets submitted for convention or meeting expenses are not properly documented by the submission of hotel receipts or detailed itemization of expenses. We recommend where applicable, hotel or motel receipts together with a detailed itemization of other expenses be submitted with the vouchers before payments are made."

"Should Tighten Purchasing" "In some areas we found that it was very difficult to ascertain that goods and services paid for by the county were actually received. We suggest that the requisition, purchasing and payment procedures be strengthened so that when the board approves payment of the bills, they can be reasonably assured that the merchandise or services have actually been received or performed for the county."

The audit accountants said that in the sheriff's office they noted "a significant number of receipts that had not been posted from the cash books to the fee books during the 1964 year, that various types of travel expenses were disbursed for varying purposes and were not supported by any documents from deputies receiving such monies, that semi-annual earnings of this office are strengthened so that when the board approves payment of the bills, they can be reasonably assured that the merchandise or services have actually been received or performed for the county."

prepared on an accrual basis and no general ledger or worksheets of the actual conversion from cash journals to the accrual reports are maintained and that expense appropriations of the office are "not realistic when compared with the actual expenditures."

The audit contained a series of similar findings in practically all departments of the government and included recommendations for correction.

Local Roller Skating Team Wins First Place

Keith Mercer and Patty Steiner won first place in the junior division in the sixth annual Illinois invitational roller skating championship meet last weekend at the Thunderbird arena at East St. Louis. They head the Rollerland Rebels, a skating club sponsored by St. Louis's roller land here.

They also placed fourth in the freshman dance division in the meet which drew entries from four states, including Kentucky, Missouri and Tennessee. Keith is a student at Prairie Junior high school and Patty attends St. Mary's parochial school in Madison.

Terry Sahr and Jolene Hackney were awarded third-place trophies in the novice dance division. They are students at St. Louis City, who belongs to a St. Louis club, received a second-place trophy in the ladies free style division.

Weather Figures In Emergency Cases at Hospital

Sunny, warm weather brought about a rash of outdoor mishaps Monday to area youngsters, with most injured in falls while playing.

Among those given treatment in St. Elizabeth Hospital emergency room were Robert Peacher, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Peacher, 2140 Dawn place, who fell from his bike, injuring his left hand; and Thomas Earls, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Earls, 2637 Edison avenue, who fell, injuring a scalp cut.

Also hurt in falls were Debra Preston, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Preston, 3133 Edgewood drive, who injured her great left toe; Donnie Halls, 2, son of Mrs. Charlotte Halls, 4723 East Lake drive, who cut his lower lip; and Charlotte Sherfy, 17, daughter of Mrs. Jennie Sherfy, 104 Abbott street, Venice, who injured her left hand when she fell against a wall.

Rainy-Day Fun For Children

Turn rainy days into days of fun and accomplishment for you and your children by helping them help you. You might get die finger when a wrench slipped.

Doors Cause Injuries

Mrs. Judy Miller, 4010 Kirkpatrick Homes, who caught her right thumb in a storm door; and Mrs. Agnes R. Butler, 66, of 2715 Madison avenue, had eight sutures taken in her left index finger which she injured in a car door.

After she was struck in the face with a swing, Cindy Bunnie, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bunnie, 2510 Jorden avenue, required several sutures to her nose.

Eighteen-month-old Scott Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace, 2031 Beckwith avenue, Madison, was treated for a head bruise after he was struck with a sand pail for the second time within a short period; and Rhonda Daily, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Daily, 4155 Breckinridge lane, cut her right foot on broken glass.

a head start with homemade Christmas gifts. Not only will you be taking care of a Christmas wish, but you'll be sharing the fun and work with the children.

Teach your young lady simple embroidery and knitting stitches. If you know tatting, preserve the art by teaching her, or get a bookie so that you can learn together.

If the cookie jar is nearly empty, or even if it's not, bake some cookies. You can freeze the extras.

Take time to listen to records with your child. Music is often explained on the record jacket.

Read the explanation with the child. If you have an encyclopedia, you might read about the composer. Maybe you'd like to invest in a book about composers and their compositions.

Go to an art museum or get some books from the library. Read about art and explain it to your children. Point out differences in the pieces.

Too often children grow up not knowing how relatives are related to them. Prevent this lack of knowledge by making a family tree. You may also decide to visit relatives to find out more about your ancestors. It will be a learning experience for both you and your children.

A much-talked-of, less-often-rainy-day activity is exploring the attic. Why not do it? Maybe you can sort and clean while you're there. Children will have fun seeing things they may never have seen before. If you run across an old picture album, you might wish to update it with a new book and remounting job. Children can help with this work, and you can explain the pictures as you go.

Top off your accomplishments with a tea party, using your little girl's own tea set and serving cookies you baked together.

Fall Care Needed For Flowers

Nearly all garden plants and lawns need appropriate fall care to help them endure the ravages of winter.

Most deciduous and evergreen trees and shrubs need plenty of available soil moisture as they go into the winter season. During cool fall weather, bluegrass lawns also need plenty of soil moisture. If the soil is not sufficiently moist, irrigate or sprinkle it.

Gladiolus plants should be dug when the corms are mature. You can tell when they are ready by scooping some of the soil away from the corm and observing the leaf scales on it. When they are light brown and papery, they are ready to dig. At this point, cut off the tops and dig up the plants. Let them air-dry on the soil surface for several hours.

Complete drying in a shady, well-ventilated area. Dust lightly with 5 per cent DDT and store in paper bags.

Dahlia buds should be dug before a hard freeze. Trim the tops. The root clumps may be stored in a perforated plastic bag to prevent excessive drying. Store at a temperature of about 40 to 50 degrees F.

The stems of peony bushes should be cut off at the soil line after the plants become dormant. After the ground freezes, a light mulch of organic matter is desirable because it prevents alternate freezing and thawing.

After the first severe frost, protect tender bush roses with a mound of soil about one foot high. After the ground freezes, cover the mound with a mulch of crushed corn cobs, sawdust or other mulching matter. To keep bush roses from being whipped by wind, cut them down to a height of 15 to 18 inches.

Remove climbing roses from the trellis, lay them on the ground and cover with soil. They too can use a mulch.

Remember to mark all garden plants with an appropriate label to keep them from being lost during the spring cleanup rush.

of Japan, the Philippines, Taiwan, Hong Kong and Thailand amounted to $749 million in 1963, Gov. Otto Kerner reported last week.

This study, conducted by the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development, revealed that on selected products of primary importance to Illinois industries, soybeans is the number one export item for Illinois to the Far East. Approximately $265 million, or 43% of Illinois' total soybean production was exported to the Far East. Wheat and its flour equivalents accounted for $113 million. Next most important Illinois exports are petroleum products amounting to $123 million; agricultural machinery, $79 million, and power machinery, $69 million.

This information is contained in "A Handbook of the Far East" prepared for the more than 60 representatives of Illinois' agricultural and commercial business interest who will accompany Gov. Kerner to the Orient Nov. 1 on a mission to increase the volume of Illinois' business.

Hunters Welcome

Public waterfowl hunting will be permitted in the Oakwood Bottoms, William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation, said last week. This 200-acre area lies between the Big Muddy River and the Missouri Pacific Railroad tracks near Grand Tower in Jackson county.

Hunters must wade into the bottoms. Boats or blinds are prohibited. Hunting hours are from sunrise until noon, CST.

The U. S. Forest Service has installed pumps to maintain water at a depth of one foot in pine oak timber during the duck season. In spring the area is drained so that the oaks will not be killed.

More Pests Established

The cereal leaf beetle and the western corn rootworm now appear to be established in the state according to a report by Dr. Harlow B. Mills, chief of the Illinois Natural History Survey.

The cereal leaf beetle recently has been reported in several locations in Will, Kankakee and Vermilion counties. The western corn rootworm appears to be well established in Mercer county and is present in Hancock, Rock Island, Knox, Henderson and Warren counties.

Presence of this rootworm, Dr. Mills said, will require changes in the established methods of controlling soil insects now used by Illinois farmers. Insecticides used to control other soil insects will not control the western corn rootworm, he explained, and chemicals effective against it will not control wireworms, cutworms and grubs.

Study Streams for Canoeing

A preliminary study of Illinois streams for canoeing is one of several new water resources studies announced by William C.

Ackermann, chief of the Illinois State Water Survey.

More than 200 miles of Illinois streams were carefully selected, studied and mapped. Good canoeing on these streams is not restricted to any one season but depends on the stream's flow and velocity. Results of the study include velocities for each stream calculated for the mean flow, the medium flow, and a flow expected to be exceeded only four per cent of the time.

The Illinois River was not included because commercial and industrial traffic limits its use by canoeists.

Bit for Bravery Medals

Illinois' candidates for the Young American Medal for Bravery, announced last week by Gov. Otto Kerner, are Louisa Pauline Vatterlo, 18, of Spring Valley and William Clay Ware, 17, of Pinckneyville. The President annually makes the award for extraordinary acts of courage.

Louisa risked her life in deep Illinois River water to save the lives of a man and a woman on May 24, 1964. Bill was selected for his swift action in saving a 4-year-old boy from burning to death on Feb. 27, 1964. The child suffered serious burns to 20% of his body and Bill suffered burns to his hands and clothing.

The Proof

In the final analysis it's the results that really count — not plans or promises.

The automobile dealers of Granite City invite you to come and browse. You will be intrigued by the beautiful models for 1966. The glitter and glow of luxury is now available for the working man. Don't miss the terrific opportunity to auto shop at one location.

SUPER SPORT 396

New Chevelle SS 396 Sport Coupe—with clean-sculpted all-new Body by Fisher.

by Chevrolet

Two new Super Sport beauties for '66—
a hardtop and convertible—propelled by nothing less than the new Turbo-Jet 396 V8.

Their SS black grille sets them apart right off as a special breed of cat. And their new Turbo-Jet 396 V8 is right behind it ready to second the motion.

This remarkably efficient power plant, with aircraft-type valves, deep-breathing ports and other design advances, develops 325 hp in the standard version. And you're welcome to order more—in a 360-hp version—if you're so inclined.

Both Chevelle SS 396 models ride on a special chassis —with flat-cornering suspension and large-size (7.75x14) red stripe tires. A fully synchronized 3-speed transmission with floor-mounted stick shift is standard. Or you can order a 4-speed or Powerglide—also Strato-bucket front seats, center console and full SS instrumentation.

Impressive credentials, sure. But to really appreciate what Chevrolet's performance specialists have come up with here you've got to get into one of these Chevelle
Super Sports and see for yourself.

And the place to do that, naturally—or to see and drive any of the ten other new Chevilles for '66—is your Chevrolet dealer's. He's a great believer in letting the customers handle the merchandise.

Year-round Activities for Young and Old at Local YMCA

Probably the most used building in the Quad-Cities is the Young Men's Christian Association's three-story structure located at the busy 20th street.

Niederhaus and Edison avenues intersect. It serves as the social hub of the community, sponsoring dances, civic functions, clubs and sporting events.

The "Y," familiar to young and senior citizens alike, offers a year-round program of recreation, physical development and instruction in a wide variety of classes, clubs and special interest groups.

Companionship is not the least of the services offered by the United Fund Agency. It also is called "home" to dormitory residents, who enjoy the congenial facilities at a reasonable cost.

In 1964, the YMCA recorded a total participation of 151,841 in all departments and activities. The figure represents an increase of more than 21,000 over 1963. Active membership in the same year totaled 4343 in the youth, teenage and adult departments.

Physical Fitness
Basketball, gym classes, swimming, soccer, judo, wrestling, volleyball, scuba diving activities, all combine for a complete physical program for men and women, girls and boys.

Many new programs were added this year to the summer YMCA schedule. For the younger set, "Outdoor Life" for boys and "Just for Girls" introduced the youngsters to a broad variety of group games, both indoor and outdoor.

Tap and ballet dance classes attracted newcomers to the "Y." A new folk dance series united the art of dance with ethnic cultures of many different nationalities and exposed participants to the artistic traditions of other people.

Constantly changing and updating its services to the needs of the community, this week the YMCA started a new pre-kindergarten school for four-year-olds, with classes slated to be held two mornings each week, supervised by a qualified instructor.

Golden Agers Benefit
At the opposite end of the age scale, the 60-member, YMCA Senior Citizens Club gathers in the auditorium each Friday for a pot-luck luncheon, needlework, games, fellowship, or to hear a program of interest and plan outside activities.

Red Cross first aid courses, swimming instruction, mother and tot and family swim periods, competitive swimming instruction and scuba diving classes were instrumental in drawing more than 20,000 users to the "Y" pool in 1964. Many swimmers enjoyed extensions of these activities in the men's Triangle Health Club or the women's

Woman Offers Reward For Return of Auto

A reward for the return of a 1965 American 440 Rambler white hard top auto with a red interior, and for personal belongings it contained, is being offered by Patricia D. Titman, 2543 E. 11th drive, Los Angeles, Calif.

The car was stolen Sept. 25 as she was in Granite City for an overnight stay in the 2100 block of Delmar avenue while she was enroute from Albany, N.Y., her former home.

As she was moving, she said the trunk was full of personal possessions. She said that travelers checks and credit cards were found near Madison and mailed to her at her Albany address. The New York license plate on the rear of the car was 3053 AB.

Slim Gym Club.
New skills in the field of judo, trampolining, tumbling, and wrestling are taught under the watchful eye of skilled instructors. While more intellectual pursuits can be found among the serious chess players, bridge enthusiasts, coin collectors and in the art and art appreciation classes.

Civic Programs
The "Y" provides meeting facilities for Rotarians, Optimists, Boosters, Tri-Hi-Y and other youth clubs, all having diverse interests, but joined in a common bond of sharing the "Y."

In addition to Quad-Cities, the YMCA provides use of the weightlifting room, gym, pool, ping-pong and billiard facilities to personnel from the Granite City Army Depot. Major use extends from October through March, a period of time during which cold weather precludes use of unheated facilities and outdoor installations on the local Army post. In 1964, more than 1430 Depot personnel utilized the "Y" for a period of 500 hours. Emphasizing Christian ideals in conducting its programs for the Spirit, Mind and Body, the YMCA offers an open door policy to all comers. Its far-reaching services reflect admirably on the Quad-Cities as a whole, as it provides guidance, fellowship and healthy atmosphere for all who care to join in its well-rounded sphere of activities.

HANDICRAFT as well as physical fitness and character building programs are featured at the Quad-Cities busy YMCA. Here a class for girls is being conducted by Mrs. Bonnie Fuller of the United Fund agency's staff.

Venice Bridge Nears 5 Million Yearly Traffic

When will the McKinley Bridge exceed five million vehicular crossings a year? It may not be long, judging by the current traffic trend, which saw 4,938,727 crossings recorded in the October 1964-September 1965 fiscal year.

Owned by the city of Venice, the bridge profited in the closing months of the fiscal year by a traffic increase associated with repairs in progress on other metropolitan area Mississippi River spans. However, the general pattern has been a gradual rise in traffic, and the five million level has been almost within reach since 1961.

The municipality acquired the bridge Nov. 21, 1958, and recorded 3,276,215 autos, trucks and buses in the 10-month, 16-day period ending Sept. 30, 1959.

Later yearly totals were 3,271,579 in 1959-60, 4,132,360 in 1960-61, 4,742,888 in 1961-62, 4,871,748 in 1962-63 and 4,864,745 in 1963-64.

13,530 Cars Daily
Daily average has risen more or less steadily from a 10,440 plateau in the first year to 13,530 in the year just ending.

The bridge was built in 1910, remaining under railroad ownership for most of its life, and has been extensively remodeled at various times in its history. It formed the first motor traffic link between the Quad-Cities and St. Louis.

During 1964-65, new highs were achieved in December with 411,818 vehicles, March with 405,985, June with 425,537, August with 483,463 and September with 428,386.

Other monthly tabulations in the year just ended were 428,032 in October (the October record of 434,662 was set in 1962); 389,361 in November (405,514 in November 1962); 378,761 in January (383,133 in January 1964); 357,579 in February (376,537 in February 1964); 407,300 in April (418,818 in April 1963); 405,198 in May (424,783 in May 1963); and 410,227 in July (422,856 in July 1963).

Thus the best seasons were the winter months in 1964, spring of 1963, summer of 1965 and fall of 1962.

State Trooper Bauers Honored by Governor

State Trooper Harry A. Bauers Jr., of Caseyville, widely-known in the Quad-City area, was among nine Illinois highway patrolmen who received awards and commendations from Gov. Otto Kerner, Monday evening.

A native of East St. Louis who formerly resided in Collinsville, Bauers was cited for his apprehension of a motorist on Nov. 5, 1964, who struck down a small boy and then fled. Bauers was appointed to the state police in 1950.

The award winners and their wives were guests of honor at the 1965 Illinois State Highway Police awards banquet Monday in Springfield. The affair is sponsored annually by the Police Benevolent Association.

Autumn Train Excursion Sunday

The annual one-day Autumn Color Excursion Train over the Illinois Central Railroad out of Belleville will be Sunday, October 24.

The train will leave the IC station in Belleville at 9 a.m. and after a final stop for passengers in Carbondale, it will be switched onto the old "Mud Line," one of the oldest railroads in the state.

The line will wind down throughout the foothills of the Illinois Ozarks under the towering cliffs of Fountain Bluff, and will make a nonstop stop along the Mississippi River near Grand Tower.

Tickets may be obtained at Illinois Central stations.

COMBINED BUSINESS operations of 101 years are represented by Clarence Lile, in barber chair, a druggist since 1906, and Abe Harlow, a barber for 43 years. Both are long-time tenants of the old building at 21st street and Delmar avenue that will be razed for a church parking lot.

Old Landmark to Become Parking Lot

Razing of the old two-story building at 21st street and Delmar avenue to make way for a church parking lot will not only mean the disappearance of one of Granite City's oldest landmarks, but also may mark the end of one of the oldest businesses in the city.

Clarence Lile, 83, who has operated a drug store and confectionery in the building for so many years that it has become known as the "Lile building" said he is not certain that he will reopen his confectionery business in another location when he is forced to vacate his present quarters. If he doesn't, Mr. Lile will end a career in the drug and confectionery business that began five years after Granite City was founded.

The building in which Mr. Lile has had his drug store in the past 30 years has been purchased by the First Baptist Church, according to Rev. Harold Maze, pastor, who also announced last week the purchase of the adjoining property. The Lile building was bought from Edmund Soltz Jr., and the adjoining lot, which also includes a two-story frame residence, was bought from the Geroff estate. Each lot is 50 feet wide and 125 feet deep. The commercial building and residence will be torn down to make a parking lot for the church which is located across the street.

Mr. Lile and Abe Harlow, operator of Harlow's Barber Shop in another section of the main floor of the building, will be required to move to permit razing of the building. Mr. Harlow is an even older tenant of the building than Mr. Lile, having operated a barber shop at that location for 35 years. Mr. Lile said they have at least 60 years in which to find other quarters, but that he and Harlow have been told the church would like the property as soon as possible.

Plans Uncertain
According to Mr. Lile, his plans to reopen his confectionery will depend upon whether he can find satisfactory quarters at a suitable business location.

As a landmark, the building is one of the city's oldest, and Mr. Lile, who entered the drug business in Granite City in 1901, recalls its history as a rooming house in the early days of the city. The building was erected in 1886 to provide housing for workers at American Steel Foundries which had just begun operations. Unstairs, Mr. Lile recalls, there were 8 rooms, 16 by 10 feet, each containing four beds. There was such a serious housing shortage in Granite City at the time that the men were assigned to the rooms in shifts, one shift working while the workers on another slept in the beds.

A tavern was located on the main floor of the building at that time. It later became known as the Yellowdog saloon because of a large, shaggy yellow dog which belonged to the operator, and which slept almost constantly in the tavern. One day the owner remarked that he would give $5 to be rid of the dog. A tavern patron killed the dog the next day, showed it to the proprietor and asked for his $5. From that time on the tavern was known as the Yellowdog Saloon.

Painted on one wall of Mr. Lile's confectionery, although it since has been covered by paneling during remodeling, a box of mural painted by a traveling artist who stopped at the saloon one day and stayed on for free beer and free lunch to paint the mural. Mr. Lile recalls that the picture, a woodland hunting scene, was four by six feet. Mr. Lile said he presumes the picture still is there, undamaged, to be seen when the building is torn down.

Streets Were Lettered
As a memento of his past in the old building, Mr. Lile still has a blue and white, metal sign marking "D Street" which originally was the designation of Delmar avenue.

Names replaced letters for street designations a box 45 years ago, Mr. Lile recalls, but the old "D Street" sign remained on a corner of the building until the exterior of the building was remodeled and covered with imitation brick siding about 10 years ago. At that time he rescued the old sign and kept it.

Mr. Lile's personal history in Granite City is almost as old as the building. He entered the drug business in downtown Granite City in 1901 as an employee in a drug store, working five years before he opened his own business. His first drug store was the first occupant of the then newly built Morris building. Edison avenue was not paved at the time, he recalls. He later opened a drug store on Niedringhaus avenue and on 20th street, and in September, 1935, moved into his present location. In recent years he has operated a confectionery, without a drug department.

During the 39 years he has been in business, Mr. Lile recalled, he has been held up a total of 17 times, three of the robberies occurring in the present store. In July 1962, he shot and wounded a would-be robber who had helped him up. Mr. Lile was shot in the elbow by the robber before the druggist wounded the bandit, who later was captured by police.

Record County Sales Tax Receipts in July

Half-cent-a-dollar sales taxes in the unincorporated area of Madison county netted $16,156 for the county treasurer on sales occurring during July, a new record for a July, the latest monthly report showed Friday.

For the first seven months of 1965, the tally is $104,365, an average of slightly under $15,000 a month. For the period beginning Oct. 1, 1965, when the tax went into effect, the grand total is $948,320.

The latest July tally compares with $14,440 in July 1964 and $15,054 in July 1963.

The $16,156 figure was determined by deducting $261 protested taxes and $672 state administrative costs from gross collections of $17,091.

Veterans' Assistance Allowances Increased

Increases in the educational assistance allowances payable under the War Orphan Educational Assistance Program will become effective Nov. 1, Joseph D. Wetton, Granite City service officer for the Illinois Veterans' Commission, announced today.

A person pursuing special re-educative training is entitled to a basic training allowance of $230 per month, and should the tuition and fees exceed $41 per month, the training allowance will be increased accordingly.

Dependents eligible for the assistance must show that the total disability or death was in "line of duty" after Jan. 31, 1965.

GCAARC to Hear Convention Report
The annual convention of the National Association for Retarded Children, held recently in New York City, will be the subject of a special report at 7:30 p.m. Monday, at St. John United Church of Christ.

A resume of conference activities will be given by Mrs. Evelyn Gavin and Mrs. Mary Lou Neumann, local delegates, at the Granite City-Association for Aid to Retarded Children's monthly meeting. The public is invited.

Anyone wishing further information about the assistance program is advised to contact Wetton at the city hall in Granite City. The IVC office is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 to 4:30 p.m.

ty reported last week they had already received more than 100,000 bushels of the new crop.

Unfortunately some human fingers, hands, arms and even legs may get mixed into this bumper crop of corn, says O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Just how many, no one knows.

Some farmers will finish picking early and without mishap. Others will be less fortunate, and a few may never see their corn in the crib. What happens to you will depend on how carefully you operate your picker.

Records show that a few will get tangled up in the power take-off, but most of the injuries will involve the snapping and husking rolls. The rolls get plugged. Mr. Farmer gets off the tractor, leaves the machine running and tries to unplug the rolls. How many times he can do that without getting hurt is a question.

Are the minutes you are trying to save by leaving your picker running worth the chances you are taking? Have you ever put a price on your hands, arms or legs? Have you ever thought how you would like to spend the rest of your life without one of them? Stop that picker before you attempt to unclog, grease or adjust it.

Soybean Tests

Wayne soybeans, a new variety recommended for this area, was the highest yielding variety in the test plots in Madison county this year. The plots were grown by Delmar Grotenfend of Marine township and Bergman Taylor Seeds, St. Jacob.

In the Grotenfend plot, the variety yielded at the rate 44.7 bu. per acre. Clark, the most popular variety in this area, ranked second with 40.2 bu. and Clark 63 was third with 37.3 bu. The other varieties, in order of yield, were Shelby 34.8, Bellati 34.6, Lindarin 33.3, Harosoy 31.3, Lindarin (63) 30.9 and Harosoy (63) 30.7 bu. Harvesting of the Kent, a later variety, was delayed to give it time to mature.

Wayne and Kent tied for high ranking in the Bergman-Taylor test plot, each producing at the rate of 42.3 bu. per acre. Scott, a very late-maturing kind not adapted here because it is so late, made 45 bu., but it was quite high in moisture. The Clark and Clark 63 were next, both with 41.3 bu., followed by Shelby at 40.2 bu. Clark 63, Bellati 38.2, Hawkeye (63), 38.2, Lindarin 35.1, Harosoy 34.1, Lindarin (63) 29.9 and Harosoy (63) 28.6 bu.

Seed of the Wayne variety is expected to be available for 1966 planting for farmers who get their orders in early. Seed was grown this year in the southern half of the state by 154 seedsmen, who shared 1690 bushels of Wayne soybeans.

Wayne matures a few days earlier than Clark and a day or two later than Shelby. It is expected to replace much of the Shelby and some of the Clark acreage. The Wayne had the top yield for the past four years at Urbana and led all others in south-central Illinois tests last year.

A field of Wayne soybeans grown by Jim Winet of Saline township in a yield contest sponsored by the Illinois Crop Improvement Association for fields larger than five acres made 41.3 bushels per acre.

Problems With Swine

Inclement weather and rapid temperature changes during the fall trigger outbreaks of swine influenza, Dr. H. Neil Becker, University of Illinois extension veterinarian, warns.

Swine producers should prevent their hogs from being exposed to cold, damp weather and drafts. Adequate housing and bedding will reduce the chances of swine flu outbreak during the fall and winter.

Dr. Becker points out that lungworms and roundworms are also known to trigger swine flu and often make the disease more severe. Worming sows two to five weeks before farrowing will keep down the number of worm eggs to which young pigs will be exposed. The sows should also be washed before entering the farrowing house to remove the war meags from their bodies. When the pigs reach 6 to 12 weeks of age, they should be wormed to eliminate any adult worm eggs from their bodies. The signs of flu in swine usually occur within three to five days after the weather has been bad. The swine become sick suddenly, go off feed, cough, breathe with difficulty and are slow to move out of their pens. When these signs occur, a veterinarian should be called immediately.

Animals Cause Accidents

Animals on highways often cause injuries. Their owners may be held liable if they are found to be negligent, reports N. G. P. Krausz, University of Illinois professor of agricultural law.

Krausz says that these general rules apply in Illinois: If a farmer has poor fences and his animals are often out, he may be liable for damages caused to anyone using the highway. Even though he maintains good fences, his animals may get through the fence and onto a highway. In this case he may still be liable for any damages if he knew that the animals were out and made no reasonable effort to get them back in.

A farmer may also be liable because of negligence if he drives his animals along, across or on a highway, particularly a paved highway. If he does, he is required to use the necessary care to keep them under control. At night or when visibility is poor, he must also warn motorists that animals are present.

The law also protects the owner of the animals. In a situation where the farmer was not negligent and can show that the motorist was driving carelessly, driving too fast or driving a car in poor mechanical condition, the farmer may collect damages for his animal from the motorist.

Thirty business firms of the Metropolitan area are displaying ing products in an exhibit called "St. Louis, a Vital Factor in American Agriculture" during October at the Visitors' Center in the Old Post Office in downtown St. Louis. The display contains products relating to agriculture, like meat, flour, milk, brooms, leather goods, etc. It is sponsored by the St. Louis Agricultural Club. The general public is invited to see the display, open daily 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

DOORS—GRANITE CITY
GLASS CO., TR 7-5400

The city received Monday night one of its first notices of defective sidewalk from an individual. It was received from Vassili Georgi, 1347 Grand avenue.

Under a new law, the city calls for advance notification of defective sidewalks, pointing out it does not have responsibility for any fall injury unless there is knowledge of a hazardous condition.

Georgi, in a letter to the council, said he advised the street department of the sidewalk's condition three years ago and that he has been trying to get repairs for over 12 years. He added that while two-thirds of his property is in the city of Madison, all of the sidewalk is in Granite City.

The letter was referred to the Street Alley committee. Several aldermen pointed out they had submitted lists of defective sidewalks to the committee, and it was agreed these lists also constitute official notice to the city.

Fire Plugs to be Painted

Notification was received from East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. that all fire hydrants in the city will be repainted the same bright yellow in the near future.

Illinois Power Co. was given permission to start Nov. 1 to replace a six-inch gas main under the Edwardsville road pavement from 14th street to the city limits. Eight excavations in alleys on either side of Edwardsville road will have a total length of 4190 feet.

Illinois Power also is to be asked to check a street light at Sara avenue and Harvey place in Pontoon Plaza. Alderman Thompson said the power company says the light has been installed, while residents claim it's not there. The light was to be located about 200 feet north of the intersection.

Driveway for Mayor

Approval was granted for a driveway at West 25th street and Illinois avenue for a new home being erected by Mayor Parney.

Referred to the Traffic Control Commission was a request from St. John United Church of Christ to erect church road signs at six locations in the city.

The Personnel committee was given a notice from Police Department Local 1347 Secretary Richard Bell that the union wants to open negotiations for the 1966 contract. A $1000 bond by Western Surety Co. for Jerry Ray Wilson, new police officer, was accepted.

A bid of $126 to repair a police car damaged in an accident was accepted and the work will be done by Andy's and Johnny's trimming crews to use up in Area Body shop. Other bids were $128 and $144.

Also approved was a lone bid of $15.90 per ton for the city's winter supply of salt. Last April, identical bids of $19.60 a ton were received from three firms. The new bid was by International Grieve will relieve Humane Officer Albert Young on Saturdays and Sunday, and his pay will be $2 an hour.

One good reason for having a lawyer when you buy a house is because he can protect your interests in so many ways. He can advise you of your rights and obligations. See a lawyer when you buy. # How come 3,500,000 people in Illinois are insured by Metropolitan Life?

Your neighbors have really hit on something. They've discovered that when it comes to planning for the future, the place to start is Metropolitan Life—the company with a practical insurance program designed for today's needs and for any and every situation, including yours. For example:

New—the policy that helps pay for itself

If there's one time you don't need any extra expense it's when you're just starting out—raising a family or opening a business. Yet this is precisely the time when you do need plenty of life insurance.

That's where Metropolitan's ingenious new Econo-Matic policy comes in.

The minimum initial amount is $10,000. For this amount, the premium is considerably less than that of our standard policy with a guaranteed face value of $10,000.

The ingenious feature is this: while the guaranteed amount of insurance is lower after two years, application of dividends*—if present levels are continued—will maintain the original amount of coverage for life, for the same low premium.

The Econo-Matic is just part of the up-to-the-minute selection of life and health insurance plans you'd expect from America's leading life insurance company.

Shouldn't you get all the facts and figures from your Metropolitan adviser? (He'll give you an enlightening Family Security Check-Up, to boot.) Call him soon. Tomorrow, for instance.

There's no obligation... except to those you love.

More choose Metropolitan Life millions more than any other company

There are many reasons why Metropolitan Life insures 45,000,000 people—more than any other company. One good reason is local, personal service from the Metropolitan advisers at your nearest office.

VFW Seeks Wheelchairs, Beds to Loan to Injured

A call for hospital beds, wheelchairs, crutches and similar equipment was issued today by Thomas Kula, service officer and chaplain of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1200, which loans equipment to ill and injured persons in the Quad-City area.

Records are kept on items that are issued, but over a period of time the supply has dwindled in all categories, forcing the VFW to turn down requests because sufficient equipment no longer is available.

Kula hopes for outright contributions of equipment, plus the return of loaned items which families may have forgotten to return. "Hospital beds cost about $250 each, and we are unable to bring the supplies up to the previous level merely through purchasers," he explained. At one time there were 12 hospital beds and 24 wheelchairs, he recalled.

$10,000 Suit Filed Over Fall at Track

A $10,000 damage suit was filed last week for Leo Blades of St. Louis against the Fairmount Park Jockey Club Inc. in Madison county circuit court in Edwardsville.

The complaint alleges that last Aug. 26, during the racing program, the lights failed and patrons were required to leave in darkness. He claims he stepped on an object while going down the grandstand stairs and fell, severely injuring himself. He charged negligence.

September Employment in Balances in City 65 Industries Shows Drop Funds for Year

Employment during September fell slightly below that of the same month of a year ago, according to Malcolm Thompson, manager of the Illinois State Employment Service. Sixty-five industries in the Quad-City area reported a total of 19,867 persons employed last month, compared to 19,861 employed the same month a year ago.

Thompson's report predicts an even further decrease to 18,864 by November. Approximately half of last month's decrease was in 13 industries reporting in the nondurable goods field, while only a slight decrease was reported in the manufacturing field where 26 firms reported a drop from 15,901 employed a year ago to 14,971 employed last month. Predicted employment in this field will be 14,773 in November.

A slight increase was shown in the smallest phase of the employment field, that of government employment, which jumped from 1385 employees in federal, state and local government agencies in September of a year ago, compared to 1458 employees last month.

Fifteen businesses in the retail field reported a total of 616 employees a year ago, with 623 last month, showing a slight gain.

The primary metal industries showed the greatest portion of employment for any single business field, a total of 11,578 persons last month, compared to 11,871 a year ago.

A further drop to 11,521 employees in the primary metal fields is predicted for November.

Granite City ended September with a balance of $65,339 in its general operating fund, and $806,633 in all other funds, according to a report submitted to the council Monday night by City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rieh and Comptroller John Doohar.

The report shows deficits in only two general fund accounts and one department among all other funds. General fund deficits amount to $422 in the pumping station fund and $301 in the fund for school crossing guards. The other deficit amounts to $82,145 in the sewer maintenance fund.

Venice Police Arrest 63 During September

The Venice police department made a total of 63 arrests during September, with 50 of the cases going into court, Police Chief Frank DeWitt said in a report filed with the city.

DeWitt reported that as a result of the cases sent to court, the city received $320 from court fines and fees collected in the cases.

Of the remaining cases, one was dismissed when charges were withdrawn, one prisoner was released to juvenile officials, three were released to Madison police, two released to the Illinois Youth Commission, one released to the sheriff's office. The other four prisoners were released without charges being filed.

Invasion of Vincennes

JOHN W. ALLEN
Southern Illinois University
Shortly after midnight on Feb. 23, 1779, 26-year-old Col. George Rogers Clark and his "army" of less than 200 hardened and daring men silently surrounded

Fort Sackville, the British military post at Vincennes. They immediately began a desultory rifle fire at any lighted port-hole. Two days later General Henry Hamilton, commanding the fort, surrendered it to the youthful American backwoods colonel. With possession of the fort went the control of a territory sufficient to form an empire. Clark and his small band, carrying no shelter tents and only meager provisions, had left Kaskaskia in the Illinois country on the afternoon of February 5 to begin one of the most incredible marches in American history. In the 18 intervening days they had covered about 150 miles of rainsoaked forest and flooded prairie, during almost continuous "drizzly" weather, with temperatures sometimes down to freezing.

Since childhood the writer has looked with great admiration upon Clark and his band of "Long Knives," and as a youth wished he could have been there to follow along. Since that could not be, he has journeyed several times over practically the same route toward the same Vincennes.

Instead of across flooded and trackless prairies, these journeys have been made over paved highways in comfortable cushioned cars, inside which the weather always has been pleasant. At no time has he been the conditions encountered have set with the hunger that Clark's men knew. In about every way he was exactly opposite.

Reverse Capture
The results achieved likewise have been opposite. Clark definitely captured the fort and the town. In each of the writer's several "expeditions" it has been the town that captured the invader. In fact, it seems that each time he has purposely gone to be captured or capitulated, which seems the better way to go. This most recent visit with a new guidebook and friendly guides is remembered as the most interesting of several. There always is something new to see in Old Vincennes.

During the portions of two days recently spent there, the conviction was that a visit to Vincennes was a must for those interested in the region's history. The visit should be an unbridled one, with sufficient pauses along the way to allow stories an opportunity to come alive and to etch their scenes in mind.

Varied stories have their settings at numerous places within the town and over the country-side. One such place that should be visited is beside the Wabash about three miles north of town where excavations under way are revealing the outlines of the second Fort Knox. This Knox was the town by Major Hamtramck when the Northwest Territory was formed in 1787. Tradition tells us that the garden in the first fort which was located within the town was so noisy that the townspeople asked that it be moved. This was done in 1803.

Names from History
Several names in American history are associated with Fort Knox. Among these is the name of General William Harrison, who later became the ninth president of the nation. It was from here that Harrison led troops to victory over the Indians of Tecumseh and his brother, The Prophet, at the battle of Tippecanoe. Captain Zachary Taylor, later to become president of the United States, also served here. It was Vincennes that his daughter, Sarah Knox Taylor, who became the wife of Jefferson Davis, first and only president of the Confederacy, was born in 1835. A dozen other names could be added. Fort Knox is not lacking in glamour and romance.

Anyone who goes to visit in Vincennes should not fail to journey along the course that has been designated as "The Mile of History" that meanders from a neat appearing log cabin, one terminal of the line, on the campus of Vincennes University to the other one in front of the Old Cathedral, and the George Rogers Clark Memorial that stands on the site of Fort Sackville that General Hamilton surrendered to Colonel Clark 186 years ago.

Trailblazer Train
Transportation for this storied mile is provided by a picturesque canopied conveyance called the "Trailblazer Train," operated by Vincennes University. There is no better way to take an exploratory or survey course in local history than to go along the storied mile on Trailblazer. Then one can revisit by car or unburiedly walk the course, turning aside to see new points of interest. Places where steps are made and bits of story related come thick and fast.

The first building recalled is the little two-story white frame structure that was the first capital of Indiana Territory after its creation in 1800. Looking at the little house, it is difficult to realize that from this modest old building edicts have gone forth to regulate a larger territory than from any other building in the nation except the Capitol in Washington.

Journeys about Old Vincennes have only begun and space is running out. No mention has yet been made of William Henry Harrison's "Grouseland" where important conferences were held, treaties were signed and decisions profoundly affecting the new nation were made. It also was the social center for several states. Likewise nothing has been said about the Old Cathedral, or of the Clark Memorial. A score of individuals await mention. Some of these are Francis Vigo, Rev. John Francis Rivot, Alice of Old Vincennes, Gibault, The Prophet and Tecumseh and others.
